Making people laugh is giving, and it's healing, too, when people can go up to the movies and forget about their problems. It's a good thing. That's why I want to work.

~Chris Tucker

You loan your friend money. You see them again, they don't say nothin' 'bout the money. 'Hi, how ya doin'? How's ya mama doing?' Man, how's my money doin'?

~Chris Tucker

Just believe in yourself and work really hard. And when doors open, take advantage of every opportunity you can.

~Chris Tucker

When you're first starting out, you want to keep making good movies. When you're young and you're black, you do a bad movie and you're through.

~Chris Tucker

I will always do stand-up, even if my acting career takes off. Stand-up is my life.

~Chris Tucker

I want to keep working, I want to keep doing my humanitarian stuff around the world, shining light on different places that have problems. Keep making movies, make people laugh.
