That's the beauty of argument, if you argue correctly, you're never wrong.

~Christopher Buckley

How many times had those awful words - "I know what I'm doing" - been uttered throughout history as prelude to disaster?

~Christopher Buckley

The best advice on writing I've ever received was from William Zinsser: 'Be grateful for every word you can cut.'

~Christopher Buckley

E-mails are the new herpes: You never get rid of them.

~Christopher Buckley

Christopher Hitchens is the greatest living essayist in the English language.

~Christopher Buckley

Nothing raises the national temperature more than a VACANCY sign hanging from the colonnaded front of the Supreme Court.

~Christopher Buckley

Who needs evidence when you've got the Internet?

~Christopher Buckley

The vice-president's tongue is several time zones ahead of his brain.

~Christopher Buckley

Oil they would buy from anyone. From Satan.

~Christopher Buckley

I think that every man is afraid of his wife.

~Christopher Buckley

I'm a Republican, but I find Nancy Pelosi very attractive. She hasn't done a single thing as congressman or Speaker of the House that has turned me on, but I find her quite okay.

~Christopher Buckley

One realization does dawn upon the death of the second parent, namely that you've now moved into the green room to the River Styx. You're next.
