I used to be a die-hard defender of physical film, which I still am. I love shooting on physical film and I think it's great.

~Christopher McQuarrie

Evil is a really tough concept for me. The idea of a villain that is bad for bad's sake seems kind of absurd.

~Christopher McQuarrie

I was writing from the time I was 12 years old, but I originally wanted to be a novelist.

~Christopher McQuarrie

Directing my own writing, I see that I talk way too much, and everything can happen much sooner, with much less said about it.

~Christopher McQuarrie

Success is never bad in Hollywood. It is what you do with success that will dog you.

~Christopher McQuarrie

While I was a voracious movie-goer as a boy, I never put writing and films together in my mind.

~Christopher McQuarrie

My films do very well on home video.

~Christopher McQuarrie

Directing has completely changed the way I write and watch films.

~Christopher McQuarrie

To me, the ultimate crime in an adaptation is the crime of reverence. A novel is one form of media, a screenplay is another, and a movie is yet another. There's even reverence to a screenplay.

~Christopher McQuarrie

Action to me is something very fun to shoot.

~Christopher McQuarrie

I love films like Deliverance where you can watch it over and over again and decode all of its many different meanings.

~Christopher McQuarrie

If you're surrounded by good people and you're really honest with yourself, you'll be delivered.

~Christopher McQuarrie

The biggest challenge is not coming up with the stunt, the biggest challenge is designing a sequence around it that sort of justifies its existence.
