Grace flows through wounds.

~Christopher West

Marital love is a reflection of how God loves. It is free, total, faithful and fruitful.

~Christopher West

If we want to know what's most sacred in this world, all we need to do is look for what is most violently profaned.

~Christopher West

When marriage exposes a person's selfishness and sins it's doing what it is meant to do: bringing our sins and wounds to light so we can recognize them, confess them, and begin the healing process.

~Christopher West

In the sacraments, spirit and matter "kiss." Heaven and earth embrace in a union that will never end.

~Christopher West

Marriage is the most basic expression of the vocation to love that all men and women have as persons made in God's image.

~Christopher West

Holiness is not first a matter of doing anything. It is first and foremost a matter of letting it be done. Holiness is to conceive the love of God within and to bring it forth to the world.

~Christopher West

For those with the purity to see it, a nursing mother is one of the most precious, most beautiful, and most holy of all possible images of woman.

~Christopher West

Marriage is a living sign that truly communicates the love of Christ and the Church.

~Christopher West

In Christ, man who made himself God encounters God who made himself man. Unrivaled self-importance and pride encounters unrivaled self-emptying and humility.

~Christopher West

God's plan remains God's plan despite our sin.
