

Claude Lelouch

Quotes

Film, People, Perfect, Sometimes, Stories, Cinema, One In A Million, Lows, Lasts, Would Be, Beginning Middle And End, Our Society, Too Much, Winning, Ends, Killing Someone, Credit, Lying, President, Firsts

If you want to kill someone, you'd better pull off a perfect crime. Our security lies in the fact that that's damnably hard to do.

~Claude Lelouch

The constant in my films is love stories. I consider love the chief business of humanity.

~Claude Lelouch

The real loser of our times is the one who is expected to win.

~Claude Lelouch

Shame is very painful to endure. For me it makes perfect sense that the character would kill herself.

~Claude Lelouch

I've seen many films and read lots of thrillers - and I'm always disappointed that I can guess the story before the other viewers.

~Claude Lelouch

I sometimes follow people who attract my curiosity in the street for five, ten minutes.

~Claude Lelouch

Appearance is valued too much in our society.

~Claude Lelouch

It's funny: half my films were flops, half did well. It would be terrible if I'd had only success.

~Claude Lelouch

People are too pretentious in France to like Sarkozy. But he'd be a fabulous president for America.

~Claude Lelouch

I see a film as a puzzle, with a beginning, middle, and end, but I like to start at the end sometimes.

~Claude Lelouch

Film-making is like spermatozoa: only one in a million makes it.

~Claude Lelouch

Each time I hit a low point I learn the most. Failure is the best university.

~Claude Lelouch

The perfect crime is when you push someone to suicide. I once read a study that said everyone in the course of their life has thought of killing someone.

~Claude Lelouch

The last film is always the most important.

~Claude Lelouch

Hollywood creates useful entertainment. There are millions of people on earth who need distraction and American cinema fulfills that function.

~Claude Lelouch

I decided that one day I had to make a film where the viewer couldn't possibly guess the end.

~Claude Lelouch

Cinema is dominated by stars you like from the get go.

~Claude Lelouch

Related Links:

- Film Quotes
- People Quotes
- Perfect Quotes
- Sometimes Quotes
- Stories Quotes
- Cinema Quotes
- One In A Million Quotes
- Lows Quotes
- Lasts Quotes
- Would Be Quotes
- Beginning Middle And End Quotes
- Our Society Quotes
- Too Much Quotes
- Winning Quotes
- Ends Quotes
- Killing Someone Quotes
- Credit Quotes
- Lying Quotes
- President Quotes
- Firsts Quotes