Realism is always subjective in film. There's no such thing as cinema verite.

~Crispin Glover

But there's a difference between having artistic interests and being psychotic. That's more than a fine line of differentiation, and I do see that a bit too much.

~Crispin Glover

Eccentric doesn't bother me. 'Eccentric' being a poetic interpretation of a mathematical term meaning something that doesn't follow the lines - that's okay.

~Crispin Glover

My cat can eat a whole watermelon.

~Crispin Glover

A geek by definition is somebody who eats live animals. I've never eaten live animals.

~Crispin Glover

I like getting older. When you're in your twenties you're really forging for your future. Things take shape later on.

~Crispin Glover

As soon as anybody puts anything on film, it automatically has a point of view, and it's somebody else's point of view, and it's impossible for it to be yours.

~Crispin Glover

Ireland's just a place...people go there all the time.

~Crispin Glover

In the past, I've never tried to discount or stop what people are saying because on some levels I find it interesting.

~Crispin Glover

A good thing to live by is to go after what truly interests you.

~Crispin Glover

I like to eat and the only thing I've ever been addicted to in my life is sugar.

~Crispin Glover

You would think, in an ideal world, that if you were in a really good film and did a really good job, whether it was a big film or not, you would get hired a lot; but that is not my experience.

~Crispin Glover

I still have a reputation as an eccentric. But the fact is that audiences probably mix up my roles with me as a person.

~Crispin Glover

I started out as an actor but now I act to fund my own productions. I've managed to separate my mindset.
