So often we only do what we think is expected of us, when we are capable of so much more.

~Cynthia Hand

There's nothing more inspiring than the complexity and beauty of the human heart.

~Cynthia Hand

So I'm in love. That crazy, forget to eat, float around in a daze, talk on the phone all night and bounce out of bed every morning hoping to see him kind of love.

~Cynthia Hand

We think of happiness as something we can take. But usually it comes from being content with what we have, and accepting ourselves.

~Cynthia Hand

I think the birds in the area are dying laughing watching me try not to crash.

~Cynthia Hand

Time passes. That's the rule. No matter what happens, no matter how much it might feel like everything in your life has been frozen around one particular moment, time marches on.

~Cynthia Hand

Writers have superpowers.

~Cynthia Hand

Haven't you guessed by now? I say, my heart hammering. My home is you.

~Cynthia Hand

I feel like Cinderella sitting in the middle of the road with a pumpkin and a couple of mice, while Prince Charming charges off to rescue some other chick.

~Cynthia Hand

Have you ever been to a place you're supposed to love, but all you can think about is home?

~Cynthia Hand

Clara," he says, my name sounding different somehow when it passes through his lips. "I'll miss you.

~Cynthia Hand

I mean, what good is a women's lib if we can't use it to ask guys to dances?

~Cynthia Hand

So with my luck, I'll never make it in time to save the boy in the forest because my hair will have snagged on a tree branch a mile back.

~Cynthia Hand

The look that passes between Jeffrey and Kimber right then feels like it requires a swell of cheesy music in the background. Aw, I think. Baby brother's in love. I also find this kind of gross.
