Dogs are us, only innocent.

~Cynthia Heimel

If you can't live without me, why aren't you dead already?

~Cynthia Heimel

There is a microscopically thin line between being brilliantly creative and acting like the most gigantic idiot on earth.

~Cynthia Heimel

Dogs act exactly the way we would act if we had no shame.

~Cynthia Heimel

Infidelity is such a pretty word, so light and delicate. Whereas the act itself is dark and thick with guilt, betrayal, confusion, pain, and (okay) sometimes enormous pleasure.

~Cynthia Heimel

Never judge someone by who he's in love with; judge him by his friends. People fall in love with the most appalling people.

~Cynthia Heimel

A person who uses party as a verb is a person who will walk into a shop and walk out wearing a rubber jumpsuit.

~Cynthia Heimel

Friends are the twenty-first-century version of extended families.

~Cynthia Heimel

Show me a woman who is prouder of her clean kitchen than of her collection of lingerie and I'll show you a woman with enlarged pores.

~Cynthia Heimel

we know that our world is corrupt and diseased but we're tired of being cynical and feeling helpless. What the hell, tilt at a windmill.

~Cynthia Heimel

The only women who don't believe that sexual harassment is a real problem in this country are women who have never been in the workplace.

~Cynthia Heimel

Pity the poor infant. Born perfect into the world from imperfect parents.

~Cynthia Heimel

When in doubt, make a fool of yourself.

~Cynthia Heimel

A sense of humor isn't everything. It's only 90 percent of everything.

~Cynthia Heimel

Wearing makeup is an apology for our actual faces.

~Cynthia Heimel

The media know exactly what they're doing, focusing our attention on Arsenio's hairdo. We need to keep our brains brimming with rubbish. If we didn't, we might think about things.

~Cynthia Heimel

With dogs, you don't need gurus. Dogs are forever in the moment. They are always a tidal wave of feelings, and every feeling is some variant of love.

~Cynthia Heimel

All men are not slimy warthogs. Some men are silly giraffes, some weebegone puppies, some insecure frogs. But if one is not careful, those slimy warthogs can ruin it for all the others.

~Cynthia Heimel

Women are not ladies. The term connotates females who are simultaneously put on a pedestal and patronized.

~Cynthia Heimel

Homework, root canals, and deadlines are the important things in life, and only when we have these major dramas taken care of can we presume to look at the larger questions.

~Cynthia Heimel

Dogs and humans are symbiotic species. We need each other.

~Cynthia Heimel

Swingers are all from the suburbs and consequently brain-addled by car pools, shopping malls, and welcome wagons.

~Cynthia Heimel

When women are excited about a date, they go immediately on a diet, because all women know they are hideously obese.

~Cynthia Heimel

The country is suffering from musical-chairs syndrome. We all dance around for a bit and then when we try to sit down again, somebody doesn't have a chair. We're running scared; we want ours.

~Cynthia Heimel

Possessions, for the terminally frightened, bring peace of mind.

~Cynthia Heimel

Lots of you know me as a lone, hard-bitten columnist, prone to lurking on deserted rocky promontories while searching for my muse.

~Cynthia Heimel

it is a shoe designer's job to be a year ahead of our collective unconscious.

~Cynthia Heimel

It seems to me, correct me if I'm wrong, that there are an awful lot of people in Manhattan. And it's getting worse.

~Cynthia Heimel

Enough about you let's hear about me.

~Cynthia Heimel

There is one thing that humans strive for with every cell, every gene, every nerve fiber of our beings. ... More than Mallomars, more than hot sex, we want to belong.

~Cynthia Heimel

You can't take away knowledge, and it's dangerous to pretend you never had it.

~Cynthia Heimel

A comedian is not funny unless he is taking his demons out for a walk.

~Cynthia Heimel

Not one woman over seventeen has any faith in her skin tone, and no woman over thirty can ever regard her upper arms with equanimity.

~Cynthia Heimel

[On her dogs:] I have four now. My friends tell me if I get any more they'll have to hold an intervention.

~Cynthia Heimel

a car is just a moving, giant handbag! You never have actually to carry groceries, or dry cleaning, or anything! You can have five pairs of shoes with you at all times!

~Cynthia Heimel

Men, being conditioned badly, are always feeling nooses closing around their necks, even dumpy boors no girl would take on a bet.

~Cynthia Heimel

Sex is not some sort of pristine, reverent ritual. You want reverent and pristine, go to church.

~Cynthia Heimel

Women wearing men's clothes are chic, men wearing women's clothes make us fall on the floor laughing.

~Cynthia Heimel

Here is Heimel's Law: Anything you fantasize about won't come true. So just cut it out.
