Being 16 years old and getting an electric guitar is never going to get old. There's always going to be kids making music. There's always going to be kids in bands.

~Dan Auerbach

I don't make my living making records. Maybe someday I will.

~Dan Auerbach

I am nice to everybody. But people really take advantage of it.

~Dan Auerbach

Everybody always wants to rebel against their parents' music, but nobody listened to music louder than my dad.

~Dan Auerbach

The modern video games kind of - they're too three dimensional.

~Dan Auerbach

Guitar solos bore the hell out of me. Only a few guitarists interest me, and it's not about the solos they play, it's about the grooves they create.

~Dan Auerbach

I never listen to Led Zeppelin. But, I mean, I don't think Robert Plant or Jimmy Page listen to Led Zeppelin, either. We all probably obsessed over the same old blues records growing up.

~Dan Auerbach

The Black Keys is just a band that wants to get on stage and rock it.

~Dan Auerbach

Hip hop is the new rock n' roll, you know what I mean? And anybody who doesn't think that is just sort of living in the past. It's all just American music, really, when you get right down to it.

~Dan Auerbach

Songs aren't owned by anyone.

~Dan Auerbach

You get to bring your own sound system when you play an arena, all the lights and visual stuff, which I think is really cool. There's something about those old arenas, where it feels larger than life.

~Dan Auerbach

A Grammy is really nice, but having lots of fans is really nice, too. I think just getting a record out is a success on its own.

~Dan Auerbach

It's hard to be spontaneous when you have 40 people in your crew, and you're playing to 16,000 people every night, and there's giant lighting rigs, it's hard to change direction on a dime.

~Dan Auerbach

I'm really not worried about what fans think.

~Dan Auerbach

I tend to name albums after one of the songs.

~Dan Auerbach

Bands from Akron have a sense of humor and don't tend to take themselves too seriously.

~Dan Auerbach

I'm definitely a guitar player, but it's the last thing I listen to in a song, after the singer and the drums.

~Dan Auerbach

You know, there's always someone in mind when I'm writing. You know, it's all comes from somewhere inside.

~Dan Auerbach

My mum's family would all get together, with guitars, harmonica, mandolins and upright bass and play old blues and folk songs. That was normal to me.

~Dan Auerbach

When I'm writing with just an acoustic guitar, it can be for anyone.

~Dan Auerbach

Coming from a smaller place always made things feel more personal, which is really what it's all about.
