I think improvisation is really crucial in terms of making things feel real and authentic.

~Dan Mazer

In terms of magnifying it and making it plausible, I'm a great believer in truth in comedy.

~Dan Mazer

I learned that I enjoy directing a lot more than I enjoy writing, which is interesting, because writing is lonely and infamous basically.

~Dan Mazer

I know what I want. I try and convey that at the beginning and set that out, but within those parameters, I'm very happy for them to experiment and try things and give it a go. To me, it's important.

~Dan Mazer

I think actors like to be directed. Actors like to know where they're headed and what they want, so I'm very encouraging.
