Money has never been important to me. I come from garbage. I'm a sewer rat who made it here. I have no interest in money and never have.

~Dane DeHaan

I'll be the next Leonardo DiCaprio, sure.

~Dane DeHaan

Life changes and that's cool. Growing older is amazing, I think.

~Dane DeHaan

I always wanted to be an actor, but my top three favorite actors of all time are Al Pacino, James Dean and Philip Seymour Hoffman.

~Dane DeHaan

I've always said that if I could do anything in the world, I would be a professional golfer.

~Dane DeHaan

Even if you become sympathetic for somebody who has done something terrible, I don't think that necessarily makes what they did look cool.

~Dane DeHaan

I've actually been in a lot of movies that involve sucking on fingers.

~Dane DeHaan

It's funny because I went to a predominantly white school, but for some reason they always picked the musicals that were supposed to be done by totally black casts.

~Dane DeHaan

Acting is all about being truthful. I'm really bad at lying. I'm one of the worst liars I know.

~Dane DeHaan

There's a wealth of information on James Dean, and everybody has an opinion on him. James Dean made some kind of impression on everybody.

~Dane DeHaan

Now, even when I see the trailers, I get so excited because it's like I'm seeing a movie that I haven't seen at all before, whatsoever. And then I just happen to be in it.

~Dane DeHaan

The Prohibition era is so vividly depicted in Lawless. John Hillcoat does a remarkable job of rooting his film in such a tangible reality.

~Dane DeHaan

I love being directed. I always find it helpful to have someone else's brain in the mix and not just have to rely on myself.

~Dane DeHaan

I loved getting classical training in terms of acting. I would've stayed in acting school for the rest of my life if I could have. It was this amazing period of my life where everything was so safe.

~Dane DeHaan

I was a big "Blue Valentine" fan. I really loved that movie. And I thought the performances were just unbelievably real, which is certainly what I always strive for in my work.

~Dane DeHaan

In L.A., there are so many people that are focused on being healthy that it's unhealthy.

~Dane DeHaan

Sometimes I'll get a bunch of my friends to pretend they're my fans and then I'll walk out on the street and I'll have them mob me just so I can prepare.

~Dane DeHaan

I think that ultimately what drives my decisions is if I think the opportunity is going to challenge me in a way that makes me better as an actor.
