I have never been lost, but I will admit to being confused for several weeks.

~Daniel Boone

It isn't how you die. It's what you live for.

~Daniel Boone

All you need for happiness is a good gun, a good horse, and a good wife.

~Daniel Boone

The religion I have to love and fear God, believe in Jesus Christ, do all the good to my neighbor, and myself that I can, do as little harm as I can help, and trust on God's mercy for the rest.

~Daniel Boone

A zeal for the defence of their country led these heroes to the scene of action, though with a few men to attack a powerful army of experienced warriors.

~Daniel Boone

In this time the enemy began to undermine our fort, which was situated sixty yards from Kentucky River.

~Daniel Boone

Heaven must be a Kentucky kind of place.

~Daniel Boone

No, I never did get lost, but I was bewildered for three days once.

~Daniel Boone

Fear is the spice that makes it interesting to go ahead.

~Daniel Boone

I've opened the way for others to make fortunes, but a fortune for myself was not what I was after.

~Daniel Boone

Curiosity is natural to the soul of man and interesting objects have a powerful influence on our affections.

~Daniel Boone

I wouldn't give a tinker's damn for a man who isn't sometimes afraid. Fear's the spice that makes it interesting to go ahead.

~Daniel Boone

Soon after, I returned home to my family, with a determination to bring them as soon as possible to live in Kentucky, which I esteemed a second paradise, at the risk of my life and fortune.

~Daniel Boone

Have I made my peace with God? I didn't know we'd quarreled!

~Daniel Boone

Many heroic exploits and chivalrous adventures are related to me which exist only in the regions of fancy. With me the world has taken great liberties, and yet I have been but a common man.

~Daniel Boone

I was happy in the midst of dangers and inconveniences.

~Daniel Boone

I'm going now. My time has come.

~Daniel Boone

I was never lost in the woods in my whole life, though once I was confused for three days.

~Daniel Boone

I had gained the summit of a commanding ridge, and, looking round with astonishing delight, beheld the ample plains, the beauteous tracts below.

~Daniel Boone

One day I undertook a tour through the country, and the diversity and beauties of nature I met with in this charming season, expelled every gloomy and vexatious thought.

~Daniel Boone

Nature was here a series of wonders, and a fund of delight.

~Daniel Boone

Let peace, descending from her native heaven, bid her olives spring amidst the joyful nations; and plenty, in league with commerce, scatter blessings from her copious hand!

~Daniel Boone

We were then in a dangerous, helpless situation, exposed daily to perils and death amongst savages and wild beasts, not a white man in the country but ourselves.

~Daniel Boone

Lightning does not often strike twice in the same place.

~Daniel Boone

May the same Almighty Goodness banish the accursed monster, war, from all lands, with her hated associates, rapine and insatiable ambition!

~Daniel Boone

On the fourth day of July following, a party of about two hundred Indians attacked Boonsborough, killed one man, and wounded two.

~Daniel Boone

I've never been lost, but I've been a mite bewildered for a few days.

~Daniel Boone

In the decline of the day, near Kentucky river, as we ascended the brow of a small hill, a number of Indians rushed out of a thick cane-brake upon us, and made us prisoners.

~Daniel Boone

In such a diversity it was impossible I should be disposed to melancholy.

~Daniel Boone

In this situation I was constantly exposed to danger and death.
