Stories make it possible for us to be human.

~Daniel Taylor

Nothing worthwhile is easy.

~Daniel Taylor

Broken stories can be healed. Diseased stories can be replaced by healthy ones. We are free to change the stories by which we live.

~Daniel Taylor

Few things are as encouraging as the realization that things can be different and that we have a role in making them so.

~Daniel Taylor

The ability to see our lives as stories rather than unrelated, random events increases the possibility for significant and purposeful action.

~Daniel Taylor

We do not choose between a life of difficulty and a life of ease. We simply choose for what purpose we will work, sometimes suffer, and hopefully endure.

~Daniel Taylor

A community, a family, is a group of people who share common stories. The health of any community depends directly on the health of the stories the community embraces.

~Daniel Taylor

We live in stories the way fish live in water.

~Daniel Taylor

We're not in people's faces, but I guess we're kind of in people's ears.

~Daniel Taylor

Reflection on the infinite seems to call, almost by definition, for infinite reflection.

~Daniel Taylor

To have your music used on television and in movies, that's our way of getting it across to people. We're not on the radio all the time. It's the only way to get your music heard.

~Daniel Taylor

Pull a thread in my story and feel the tremor half a world and two millenia away.
