

Danielle Trussoni

Quotes

Angel, Writing, Thinking, People, Real, Stories, Character, Creating, Believe, Jobs, Escaping, L Amour, Childhood, Morning, Desire, Years, Walks, Eye, Shade, Action

These moments were wondrous and divine, instances when the gossamer curtain between heaven and earth ripped and all of humanity witnessed the marvel of the ethereal beings.

~Danielle Trussoni

That's l'amour: we willingly walk into the future blindfolded.

~Danielle Trussoni

One is but a shade of the other.

~Danielle Trussoni

Don't stay in a bad situation - whether it is a relationship or a job - out of fear of failure. It's not a failure to walk away and choose to be happy. It takes a lot of courage.

~Danielle Trussoni

Reckless action is worse than wise restraint.

~Danielle Trussoni

There are always those who would put on armour and go into battle. but the real genius is in finding a way to get what you desire without dying for it.

~Danielle Trussoni

When the time comes, we can only expect that we have learned enough to succeed.

~Danielle Trussoni

I started listening to the Cure around the time I discovered Joy Division and, like Joy Division, they have shaped my taste in all sorts of dark and dreary ways.

~Danielle Trussoni

I taught myself to write in order to understand who I was and so yes, writing was an act of self-actualization in the beginning.

~Danielle Trussoni

I was fifteen then, too young to fall in-love. Or maybe it is only then, with dew of childhood still in my eyes, that I was capable of such love. I will never know, of course.

~Danielle Trussoni

Beautiful music plays, but not everyone with ears can hear it.

~Danielle Trussoni

But, most important, we must not become as base and treacherous as our enemies.

~Danielle Trussoni

When we are no longer capable of love, we are no longer alive.

~Danielle Trussoni

Stories of a mythical angel paradise called an Angelopolis are like Peter Pan's Never Never Land.

~Danielle Trussoni

I always knew I wanted to write really imaginative fiction - fiction that was very different from my real life.

~Danielle Trussoni

One thing that I don't ever want to do is write something I don't love.

~Danielle Trussoni

If there are too many cooks in the kitchen, the dish is not going to work out.

~Danielle Trussoni

Even the good angels, I think, would inspire in humans some sort of fear.

~Danielle Trussoni

Since the Middle Ages, people have been writing about angels. Angelology was actually at one point a scholastic discipline.

~Danielle Trussoni

Writing grew out of the pleasure of escape. My novels are very much outside of my personal experience. That is why I love writing fiction. It allows me to leave my existence and inhabit other lives.

~Danielle Trussoni

Maybe that is what marriage is: Two people creating a cult together.

~Danielle Trussoni

People don't actually think there is such a thing out there as angel research.

~Danielle Trussoni

If I'm not writing, I'm not fully living. It has become the essential element that defines who I am.

~Danielle Trussoni

Finding one's voice - or creating a narrative voice that has the power to carry your story - is the hardest part.

~Danielle Trussoni

I believe a good memoir should have all of the narrative elements of a novel: character development, dialogue, descriptive language, and metaphor.

~Danielle Trussoni

Related Links:

- Angel Quotes
- Writing Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- People Quotes
- Real Quotes
- Stories Quotes
- Character Quotes
- Creating Quotes
- Believe Quotes
- Jobs Quotes
- Escaping Quotes
- L Amour Quotes
- Childhood Quotes
- Morning Quotes
- Desire Quotes
- Years Quotes
- Walks Quotes
- Eye Quotes
- Shade Quotes
- Action Quotes