I hope somewhere along the way, I've inspired someone to do something. ... And I hope they say that I was nice and polite.

~Daria Werbowy

Of course, there are days when you're not feeling your best and you still have to stand up there and it can be difficult. But those days pass and you move on.

I've gone through a lot of different phases on what I do and why I do it - morally and ethically. I've tortured myself about it, especially in dealing with success and money.

~Daria Werbowy

The thought of attention made me want to hide in a closet. I wasn't a kid who liked attention. I liked solitude and I still kind of do.

~Daria Werbowy

If I'm going to do something, I'm going to do it as best I can. I'm going to give it everything.

~Daria Werbowy

The fact that my parents got over to Canada is kind of amazing in and of itself. Had they not immigrated when I was a child, I probably would have never been doing what I'm doing. So, thanks, Canada!

~Daria Werbowy

I just had to learn to look at it as a job, as opposed to identifying myself as a model and thinking of myself as a part of this industry.

I grew up in a sailing family. My dad lived for sailing, and when we moved to Canada when I was a child, he really wanted us to learn.

~Daria Werbowy

Sometimes I am still surprised that I'm a model and that people think I'm good-looking.

~Daria Werbowy

When I was a kid, everywhere I went people said I should be a model, but I was more into skateboarding.

~Daria Werbowy

I'm not a big planner when I travel; I just feel it out.

~Daria Werbowy

Nudity seems to be an issue that America can't get over in general. I wonder when the day will come when we finally become okay with it, with the human form.
