This is how proofiness works. The assertion is more important than the evidence itself.

~David Corn

Obama has not accomplished a key mission: sell his own successes and keep his own (political) troops fired up and ready to go.

~David Corn

Rush Limbaugh is not the arbiter of what's good taste or what American opinions or morals should be.

~David Corn

Jon Bolton is the neocon`s neocon. He was a hawk straight down the line. He wanted to bomb Iran five, six years ago before the Donald Trump election!

~David Corn

I still am mystified about why Donald Trump is out there tweeting praise of Vladimir Putin, and still kind of denying and dismissing whether the hacking happened or the seriousness of it.

~David Corn

I think Hillary Clinton has a lot of lee way to go, either direction, and to probably most likely try to fudge it and get both parts of the party into talking points.

~David Corn

Bush and his commanders in the war on terrorism are willing to waste non-terrorists to kill terrorists. Right or wrong, that is not caring about the dignity of every life.

~David Corn

The one foreign policy issue that Donald Trump took a stand on was that he was against the Iraq war. Even though it wasn't true, he kept saying again and again and again.

~David Corn

I do think John Kerry has tried awfully hard to work with Russia and others to have a lasting, significant cease-fire.

~David Corn

The Republican base is not reflective of the whole country.
