Play is not only our creative drive; it's a fundamental mode of learning.

~David Elkind

Children in the 21st (century) have been transformed from net producers of their own toy and play culture, to net consumers of play culture imposed by adults.

~David Elkind

Friendships in childhood are usually a matter of chance, whereas in adolescence they are most often a matter of choice.

~David Elkind

When we are polite to children, we show in the most simple and direct way possible that we value them as people and care about their feelings.

~David Elkind

We now recognize that abuse and neglect may be as frequent in nuclear families as love, protection, and commitment are in nonnuclear families.

~David Elkind

We see these adolescents mourning for a lost childhood.
