The most important thing is that you have to have the visual effects working for you, instead of you working for the visual effects.

~David Heyman

The only way I can work is if I care and am passionate about a project, so the challenge is to find projects that I feel that way about.

~David Heyman

All we try and do is make the best films we can. If you do that then hopefully the audiences will come, and they have. Everything else is gravy.

~David Heyman

I'm living in the moment. I just try to move each of the stories, scripts and projects that I work on forward. And when they're ready and the people are ready to make them, we'll do that.

~David Heyman

We tell the stories that we want to tell.

~David Heyman

A lot of things change and a lot of things stay the same, they mostly stay the same.

~David Heyman

The films you're making have to be faithful to the material.

~David Heyman

If you make a good first film and audiences respond, than hopefully you'll have the opportunity to do a sequel.

~David Heyman

I love books. I read voraciously, and I happened to have been fortunate to have been in the right place at the right time.

~David Heyman

I got a few things, because I think the props are so beautiful as much as anything else. The detail of the work is something that one has no idea of.

~David Heyman

Making the films is never easy, but actually that aspect of trying to make a better film or to keep the standard high is something that comes organically.

~David Heyman

I don't think you can be a director without a kind of sense of competitiveness.
