What I loved about it was language-wise it wasn't that finely-tuned-perfect-insult-for-the-perfect-situation that sometimes we try and do on Veep.

~David Mandel

I was a Fry & Laurie fan, I was a Blackadder fan, I was a House fan and he [Hugh Laurie]s a pleasure.

~David Mandel

I'd like to give every member of our cast a best supporting comedy Emmy.

~David Mandel

Veep is my priority. Veep is my home, but I have nothing but obviously, good thoughts and really want Curb to be Curb. So anything I can do, as long as Veep is not getting hurt, I guess is the answer.

~David Mandel

I love Veep so I felt like there was a lot I could bring to it.

~David Mandel

All of a sudden, making a Spanish-American War joke. I think you sort of had to go to probably to an American high school to have remembered that.

~David Mandel

As for being on Twitter, I enjoy it tremendously, and it is wonderfully overwhelming to see people not just digging it and liking it.

~David Mandel

If that had been my last show last night, you'd be talking to the new guy, asking the same questions that I got.

~David Mandel

I'm certainly never going to say that someone is prettier than Julia Louis-Dreyfus, but someone who would make her crazy for being young and good-looking.

~David Mandel

My first instinct was Selina Meyer (Julia Louis-Dreyfus) cannot be president of the United States. She needs to lose because it's the thing she wants most on the planet Earth.

~David Mandel

I'm a little bit of a news political junkie, a little bit of a reader of history.

~David Mandel

I enjoy biographies and whatnot. I'm also a fan of presidential libraries. I've visited quite a few of them, especially the more modern ones.

~David Mandel

I was born in 1970 and I got to see a little bit of [Richard] Nixon's attempts at redefining himself. I saw [Gerald] Ford.

~David Mandel

It's gratifying that people are watching that [Veep] intently and that hard. So it's been really nice and it's been really fun.
