I have a face that is a cross between two pounds of halibut and an explosion in an old clothes closet.

~David Niven

Keep the circus going inside you, keep it going, don't take anything too seriously, it'll all work out in the end.

~David Niven

A philosopher once noted that people long for immortality but run out of things to do on a rainy afternoon.

~David Niven

Watching too much TV can triple our hunger for more possessions, while reducing our personal contentment by about 5 percent for every hour a day we watch.

~David Niven

Dreams don't have an expiration date.

~David Niven

Champagne offers a minimum of alcohol and a maximum of companionship.

~David Niven

Stardom is like making love in a hammock - a happy experience but one of uncertain duration.

~David Niven

Isn't it fascinating to think that probably the only laugh that man will ever get in his life is by stripping off and showing his shortcomings?

~David Niven

I've taken up the Bible again, somewhat in the spirit of W.C. Fields - looking for loopholes.

~David Niven

Going to war was the only unselfish thing I have ever done for humanity.

~David Niven

I wonder why it is, that young men are always cautioned against bad girls. Anyone can handle a bad girl. It's the good girls men should be warned against.

~David Niven

But Champagne is not drinking.

~David Niven

Malta is a sod of a place.

~David Niven

Do something today that reflects who you are, what you are capable of, what you care about. Give yourself plenty of evidence of what you can do, and you will not doubt your abilities to do anything.

~David Niven

There are wonderful people out there but also wonderful people right here.

~David Niven

You can count on Errol Flynn, he'll always let you down.

~David Niven

I see my purpose in life as making the world a happier place to be in.

~David Niven

Tell me that I misunderstood a joke, but don't tell me that my choice of cravat is wrong.

~David Niven

I make two movies a year to take care of the butcher and the baker and the school fees. Then I try to write, but it's not that easy. Acting is what's easy.

~David Niven

Tomorrow, Trubshawe, I am going to get married again, thereby quite possibly making the greatest mistake of my life.

~David Niven

Ultra competitive people who always need to win end up enjoying things less.

~David Niven

Old age has got to start creeping up on me one day soon, and frankly I'm very scared. I don't want to be old. I've always felt so young. And I want to stay that way.

~David Niven

I enjoy reality as much as the next man. It's just that in my case, fortunately, reality includes a good stiff belt every now and then.

~David Niven

Actors don't retire. They just get offered fewer roles.
