I'm not big on looking back beyond the moment in which decisions and events occur. I'm always pushing forward.

~David Stern

Smart drafting is a wonderful thing. A smart free-agent signing is a wonderful thing. Smart trades are a wonderful thing, and that's a function of management.

~David Stern

It's not the NBA Finals, it's not even a regular-season game. It's the All-Star game, it's a celebration. A celebration of talent, speed, grace. Let's put it on display and have some fun.

~David Stern

Follow your dreams and make the most of every experience.

~David Stern

Everyone knows that if you can keep on making money, everyone's happy.

~David Stern

Everyone said that the NBA could not possibly make it because it had too many black players.

~David Stern

I think that players play, and they compete, and it's not about incentives.

~David Stern

I'm working hard to see whether there can be basketball next year.

~David Stern

With every day that goes by, there will be further reductions on what's left of the season.

~David Stern

You walk into the playgrounds in Shanghai and Beijing, and you see youngsters who are shorter, shaking and baking and having attitude. And Jeremy Lin is going to inspire all of them.
