I'm never bored, never ever bored. If I've got a day off I'll sit in a cafe and watch and observe. I'm a great observer.

~David Suchet

A successful swindler has to be a great salesman even more than a great actor.

~David Suchet

When I was 16, I made some little 35mm documentaries about the poor in London. I went round Notting Hill, which was a real slum in the 1950s, shooting film.

~David Suchet

Deep inside, I am desperate to do comedy.

~David Suchet

I don't really want people to see me. I'm not into stardom.

~David Suchet

I love music, especially classical like Verdi; it's a great way to relax.

~David Suchet

I am very traditional as a man. I am not modern and never have been. I think I was born 50 years of age and out of my time.

~David Suchet

Although I'm a very emotional man, I just can't have blind faith, I have to find out for myself.

~David Suchet

I became fascinated by the fact that people write to give away rather than write to be read. It's the difference between playwrights and novelists.

~David Suchet

I'm really not interested in showing me or playing me. My gift as an actor, given to me, is to be able to become other people.

~David Suchet

So, if I ever played Napoleon it would be with an Italian accent. He was an outsider, which also interests me.

~David Suchet

I was a typical teen growing up in the 1960s, when everybody was into gurus and meditation.

~David Suchet

Inevitably, every part an actor plays contains some of himself.

~David Suchet

I'm really into my photography and am trying to catch up with digital generation - I was used to the old 35mm cameras.

~David Suchet

I'm 64 years old, and I've been acting now for 42 years. Only recently have I thought to myself, 'Hmmm, it may be interesting to start directing.'
