The only school that let me in was U.C. Santa Cruz, which is where I went. They didn't have a journalism program, so I took sociology, which is the closest thing to journalism.

~David Talbot

I have no regrets about launching Salon. For the life of me, I can't imagine doing anything else.

~David Talbot

There are not that many new media brands you can say that about nowadays.

~David Talbot

Most Sunday magazines, with the New York Times as an exception, are kind of sleepy, weekend service vehicles to move living room products.

~David Talbot

I know that doesn't sound very radical and webby of me to say that but I think the New York Times is important. I also think there's an occasional piece that will pop out.

~David Talbot

My favorite thing is still journalism. I'm almost 50. This has been my life ever since I was in college.

~David Talbot

After Watergate, which happened when I was in college, I became increasingly inspired by journalism as a way to change the world. It sounds corny, but to wake the public up, to serve a higher cause.

~David Talbot

Most magazines have become wallpaper, they're all the same, all the same celebrities. It's really an abysmal time in American journalism right now. But occasionally one story or two will pop out.

~David Talbot

When you're kept by a patron you don't have to duke it out in the media marketplace for dollars and for readers. In some ways that's a blessing because it takes a lot of pressure off you.

~David Talbot

Even more important maybe, or equally more important at least, is they don't have to scrap for a living.

~David Talbot

They may be a little more high brow than we are.

~David Talbot

FCU's PLS discovery has quickly become one of the most exciting stories in the uranium sector.

~David Talbot

We are upgrading UEX to a Buy rating; new CEO Roger Lemaitre changes everything.

~David Talbot

EFR has incredible leverage to the rising uranium price and its projects have massive potential.

~David Talbot

Journalism is not just a cause, its also a wacky profession.

~David Talbot

I actually do think the history is so epic that it actually kind of writes itself.

~David Talbot

I got kicked out of high school, so I couldn't get into very many colleges.

~David Talbot

We upgrade URZ to a Buy; we see an entry opportunity with investors.

~David Talbot

EFR entered into an agreement to sell some noncore assets for $2.05M.

~David Talbot

Expect URZ stock to perform well as mining begins at Nichols Ranch.
