I'm not going to say I'll never rock with a band, because I'm too much of a fan of the aesthetic of a great band. But a girl group? Not again.

~Dawn Angelique

I'm just being the artist that I would have loved if I was a child.

~Dawn Angelique

Major labels limit you, but I also learned my tricks from getting around that.

~Dawn Angelique

At a label, you are confined to the team you have, but I did all my solo work myself, and that makes you more agile and able to go into weirder corners.

~Dawn Angelique

I grew up in the dance school my mother owned, and I see everything in body shapes, everything visual.

~Dawn Angelique

I have been doing choreography my whole life, and it's so important to make that marriage between music and the body.

~Dawn Angelique

I've only covered a few songs because I feel that if you're not going to go beyond the original artist in some way, then don't disrespect what they created.

~Dawn Angelique

I've always been an outsider kid. But I had always wanted to be in a group - growing up, I loved bands like the Cranberries and K's Choice.

~Dawn Angelique

I've learned that you only become as creative as you possibly can by staying independent.

~Dawn Angelique

I always thought music was open to all things.

~Dawn Angelique

We get discouraged sometimes when people look at surface only and neglect the message.

~Dawn Angelique

The same people neglecting and hating are the ones going through issues in their own lives, and they're scared to face that.

~Dawn Angelique

I've always loved literature, and the best books I read were always trilogies.

~Dawn Angelique

Color has always evoked emotion for me: visually, internally, emotionally.

~Dawn Angelique

The only person who can confine you is yourself.

~Dawn Angelique

Even in independent music, people push towards radio. It is very political.

~Dawn Angelique

It's frustrating when you feel like you have a message to get out and people just judge you regardless.
