Civility is the art and act of caring for others.

~Deborah King

We all need time to enjoy being alive without an agenda of getting something done.

~Deborah King

Meditation is like a giant broom for sweeping away any stagnant or blocked energy that you may have buried deep in your body.

~Deborah King

The truth is, you are your own "special someone," and loving yourself is the first step to finding love outside yourself.

~Deborah King

I do find that Western medicine is more and more open to proving energetic concepts. Why not, because modern physics is 100 percent based on it.

~Deborah King

The worst lies of all are the ones we tell ourselves. They are the most damaging.

~Deborah King

Every woman knows the power of the sacred feminine.

~Deborah King

Unless you're living in your truth, you're slowly killing yourself.

~Deborah King

That's like buying asparagus and then leaving it at the checkout. Why would you do that?
