I am endlessly fascinated that playing football is considered a training ground for leadership, but raising children isn't.

~Dee Dee Myers

Clinton had absolutely zero honeymoon, none whatsoever.

~Dee Dee Myers

I was supposed to be authoritative, but at the same time had to be likeable, a quality that is a bonus, not a requirement, for men in the same position.

~Dee Dee Myers

Yes, Bill Clinton is a big flirt.

~Dee Dee Myers

Women have to be the biggest champions in the world of other women's choices.

~Dee Dee Myers

Exponential growth in access to the Internet, satellite television and radio, cell phones, and P.D.A.'s means that breaking news now reaches virtually every corner of the globe.

~Dee Dee Myers

Democrats single out glaring examples of tax preferences or spending priorities that favor the wealthy and Republicans cry 'class warfare!'

~Dee Dee Myers

Trying to negotiate getting a couple of kids to watch the same TV show requires serious diplomacy.

~Dee Dee Myers

To compare Whitewater to Watergate is a travesty.

~Dee Dee Myers

If people believe you're on their side, they will trust your decisions.

~Dee Dee Myers

Clinton's resilience became sort of the secret weapon of the campaign. He was never going to just give up and get out.

~Dee Dee Myers

1992 became known as the 'Year of the Woman' because so many of us were elected to public office that November, including a record six to the United States Senate.

~Dee Dee Myers

Almost all first ladies have had tremendous power on personnel issues, whether the public realized it or not, whether it was Barbara Bush or Nancy Reagan or whoever.

~Dee Dee Myers

One thing I think is least realistic is that there were five people that made decisions in the fictional 'West Wing.' In real life, there are about five million people that weigh in.

~Dee Dee Myers

It isn't fate but fecklessness that has shoved Sarah Palin to the sidelines of national politics. The real tragedy is that she's taken a lot of other serious Republican women with her.

~Dee Dee Myers

And Clinton was like that - he saw the whole playing field. He didn't just see the event that he was at or the circumstances of that week or that month. He saw the whole playing field all the time.

~Dee Dee Myers

No reporter is flying around in borrowed twin-engine airplanes.

~Dee Dee Myers

The first time I met Bill Clinton was actually 1988.

~Dee Dee Myers

The exposed nature of life in the public square affects leaders' attitudes toward risk - and failure.

~Dee Dee Myers

Obama has become too dependent on formal speeches and set town halls. His idea of mixing it up is taking off his jacket.

~Dee Dee Myers

Having a sense of humor has served me more than it has hurt me - just in the sense that it has allowed me to keep my sanity.

~Dee Dee Myers

I am encouraged to see women are being elected in Chile, Argentina, Liberia, Ireland. More is more.

~Dee Dee Myers

I'm a baseball freak.

~Dee Dee Myers

I think a lot of presidents learn to be president by being president.

~Dee Dee Myers

Throughout his presidency, Clinton made a point of getting close - physically and emotionally - to the people whose problems his administration was working to solve.

~Dee Dee Myers

There is an institutional cynicism that causes reporters to question everything the President says, and the motives of everything the President and his Administration try to accomplish.

~Dee Dee Myers

Obama has made America cool again - and more than that, he's made his own brand arguably the most powerful the world has ever known.

~Dee Dee Myers

Women communicate differently and process information differently, which leads them to resolve conflicts differently.

~Dee Dee Myers

I think how pay gets determined is pretty broad - experience, how people look, what they bring to the job. But there's no question women are paid less. Women don't ask.

~Dee Dee Myers

Women's particular experiences continue to shape not just their points of view but their actions, in the United States and around the world.

~Dee Dee Myers

I don't think women hold all the answers, but with their skills, their strengths, we can get to a better place.

~Dee Dee Myers

Barack Obama is the most famous living person in the history of the world.
