My dad used to say to me, 'You look more like me than I do.'

~Dhani Harrison

You don't have to burn books, you don't have to rebel against teachers to rebel; to rebel is to truly own your own self.

~Dhani Harrison

People see my face, they hear my voice, and I know they're thinking about my father. That's OK - he was a great man.

~Dhani Harrison

I think guitar-wise, Eric Clapton was a big influence on me. I got to spend time around him. He's kind of strange, mysterious, serious and he always has played such hot guitar.

~Dhani Harrison

My job description is... being enthusiastic.

~Dhani Harrison

It's funny, because music is one of those things it is natural to go into. You hear it so much growing up, it kind of permeates you and eventually you spew out some music of your own.

~Dhani Harrison

I did everything I could to not be a musician.

~Dhani Harrison

'Live a Lie' is inspired by recent combinations found in dubstep.

~Dhani Harrison

In almost any profession, even if you're the kid of an actor, people are very supportive and want to see the next generation.

~Dhani Harrison

My dad was my hero, my best friend.

~Dhani Harrison

I was recording stuff with my dad when I was like five, six years old. I played with him on tour. I'd gone with him to Japan in '91, played some gigs, did a couple shows at the Albert Hall.

~Dhani Harrison

I suddenly realized that in order to do what I wanted to do, I had to become that which I hated - which is the head of a record company or a digital media conglomerate - and just do whatever you want.

~Dhani Harrison

Being in L.A. is great because there are so many weird people out there, so you can just blend in. I like that.

~Dhani Harrison

I think I learned a lot about not buying into a lot of hype. I wanted to be a kind of faceless entity; I didn't want to be Dhani Harrison and the Muppets or something like that.

~Dhani Harrison

I have two mini huskies called Woody Guthrie and Edison Guthrie.

~Dhani Harrison

Someone recently played me 'Combination Pizza Hut and Taco Bell' by Das Racist. That should be my theme song.

~Dhani Harrison

Once I started to get older, my father would say, 'You look more like George Harrison than I do'

~Dhani Harrison

'Keep your head down at school.' Those are sage words from my dad.

They kept me in check for years.

~Dhani Harrison

When my dad toured in '91, I think my first gig properly was the Tokyo Dome, 50,000 people indoors. That was pretty scary. I was 12, or 13.

~Dhani Harrison

I was an only child. I hung out with my parents.

~Dhani Harrison

One interviewer asked me: 'How do you feel that you've betrayed your father?' That wasn't really very cool.

~Dhani Harrison

I never really saw my dad around when the Iron Maiden and the AC/DC were playing. But he knew what I was doing. I was just absorbing music. So he just kind of left me to my own devices.

~Dhani Harrison

I went to university (Brown), I worked as a designer, I competed in Olympic sport (rowing) ... and I ended up being a musician. It's in the DNA, I guess.

~Dhani Harrison

I sometimes listen to music I made and find it to be something I wouldn't want to buy from a store, if there was a store. When it's like that, you have to make what you want to hear.

~Dhani Harrison

Websites are kind of useless. There's so much great web content and design out there, but the ways in which they are being experienced are not being maximized.

~Dhani Harrison

Everyone's seen the Beatles.

~Dhani Harrison

I did rebel. I was the rebel in my family, because my dad wanted me to go and just travel with him.

~Dhani Harrison

I don't really plan to be a pop star; I just want to be able to make music without the whole My Dad thing hanging over me, which everyone in my position goes through.

~Dhani Harrison

I've grown up around cinema. Michael Kamen was a very, very close friend of mine, sort of my godfather. So I know how much work goes into it. You have to know what you're doing.

~Dhani Harrison

I don't ever use my name for anything in terms of getting the music heard.

~Dhani Harrison

I did the first backwards guitar solo on 'I'm Only Sleeping'

~Dhani Harrison

It was a relief to be able to do my own band, because I was very responsible for all this amazing music I didn't want to mess up before.

~Dhani Harrison

The new no2 is sort of my little prototype band, really.

~Dhani Harrison

Im still getting used to being called a composer. A poseur, maybe.

~Dhani Harrison

To come out in the music business, you only really get one shot. A lot of people get to play small gigs first, and build up that way, without anyone really seeing them.

~Dhani Harrison

I only discovered electronic music as a teenager and I still love the Prodigy and Massive Attack.

~Dhani Harrison

I'm a huge Wu-Tang fan.
