If you're not invited to the party, throw your own.

~Diahann Carroll

You have to keep your sanity as well as know how to distance yourself from it while still holding onto the reins tightly. That is a very difficult thing to do, but I'm learning.

~Diahann Carroll

I like to think I opened doors for other women, although that wasn't my original intention.

~Diahann Carroll

As soon as my mother saw my father, she said, "Oh! I think I'm gonna marry that man." That's the reason I've been married four times, because I think it's that easy ... it really is not.

~Diahann Carroll

In the war against breast cancer, we have the ability to arm ourselves with knowledge and education is a powerful tool. By taking action and doing something positive, fear is replaced with hope.

~Diahann Carroll

With any president it is difficult to predict how the world will be effected by his presence in the white house.

~Diahann Carroll

I have a line of clothing at J.C. Penney's... and I'm lucky to be affiliated.

~Diahann Carroll

I hope that there are no persons that would want to think ill of me in any direction or any behavior.

~Diahann Carroll

I've spent about that amount of time trying to tell the public that there was purpose in... my business, my career and the roller coaster ride...

how the people I associated with worked together.

~Diahann Carroll

I think if you work in television everyday, and you must be privy to everything happening in television, then do so.

~Diahann Carroll

I considered Nat King Cole to be a friend and, in many ways, a mentor.
He always had words of profound advice.
