I'm sure that in 1985, plutonium is available in every corner drugstore, but in 1955, it's a little hard to come by.

~Doc Brown

Your future is whatever you make it, so make it a good one

~Doc Brown

Trying to be funny is one of the hardest things on the planet. I think that's tough for everyone. If you're just naturally funny it's a hell of a lot easier.

~Doc Brown

Breaking up monotony is key to life and it doesn't matter whether I'm stacking shelves or writing songs, if I was doing the same thing every day I just couldn't take it.

~Doc Brown

The future's unwritten. It's what we make of it.

~Doc Brown

I don't have the desire to be the best standup in the UK but I do have the desire to be the best at everything else I do in terms of writing and acting.

~Doc Brown

With this kind of camera-phone madness we have got, moments are diluted into self-contained edited experiences.

~Doc Brown

While I was rapping I was always involved in youth work - I ran music workshops for teenagers and young offenders all the time and also ran a charity for refugee kids for a time.

~Doc Brown

I think the sensible thing would be to focus on one thing and be the best you can be at it. There is always that risk of spreading yourself too thin if you try to do too much.

~Doc Brown

I respect anyone who's honest to themselves and able to bring that into their work in an entertaining fashion.

~Doc Brown

Standup is tough; if you are going through a hard period in your life, it is very hard to get up in front of people and be the happy guy in the room.

~Doc Brown

I'll just keep going till people get disinterested. It's what I was born to do and thankfully, people have shown an interest. I never do anything to be famous.

~Doc Brown

No wonder this circuit failed. It says 'Made in Japan'.

~Doc Brown

There is no better education than rap battling in terms of performance. It makes you fearless.

~Doc Brown

In show business, never underestimate the power of saying "no".

~Doc Brown

My shows will always be inspired by hip hop culture and my upbringing within it.

~Doc Brown

I got into music via the competitions; the first time I ever performed was in a kind of rap battle, competing for money.

~Doc Brown

I'm proud of most of the stuff I've put out and I hope my kids will look at it long after I'm gone and go, "hey, Daddy was cool once!"

~Doc Brown

There is only one thing that could make me near homicidal. Yeah - this is called My Proper Tea.

~Doc Brown

When I slid into comedy, naturally the first thing I said was, "hello, I am a washed up rapper."

~Doc Brown

I try not to make social consciousness a massive part of my music or comedy because I prefer to be an entertainer first and foremost, then do actual grassroots work when I can.

~Doc Brown

If you are successful because of Hip Hop, which I am, then you have to recognize that Hip Hop is nothing if not a product of the street, therefore you have to give something back.
