Indochina gets into your blood and once you have a taste you'll find it's impossible to stay away.

~Doug Rice

If, at the end of my days, the sum of what I've taken exceeds the sum of what I've given, then I have lived in vain.

~Doug Rice

Born in the Flint, Michigan, big boat sailing on the Great Lakes and skiing in the winter was how most of my youth was spent.

~Doug Rice

Overall the cost of living in Ho Chi Minh City is cheap and if you can stay away from Western restaurants and use just local products in your everyday life it's really cheap.

~Doug Rice

Thailand has good medical care and even though I haven't tried it, Singapore is said to have high quality care also.

~Doug Rice

I would say healthcare in Vietnam is so-so. There are several international clinics that are good but expensive and the care offered is limited.

~Doug Rice

For the most part Ho Chi Minh City is safe but like any large city you need to pay attention to what's going on around you.

~Doug Rice

Why Ho Chi Minh City? It is crowded, noisy, scruffy, crazy, but always interesting and things are happening all at a break neck speed.

~Doug Rice

I'm divorced and have a son and a grandson and it is a problem being away most of the time. Living as I do, if I had a wife and children I think it would be really hard to do.

~Doug Rice

My home address is a small apartment in Fair Oaks, California but I'm here in Ho Chi Minh City right now staying in a rented room and this is where I spend a good part of every year.

~Doug Rice

On my discharge, I had the challenge of putting my life back together but Vietnam stuck in the inner recesses of my mind.

~Doug Rice

The Vietnam War was in full swing, the Air Force wanted me and I wanted out of Flint, so three years in the USA and that fourth one spent here in Vietnam really flipped my life around.

~Doug Rice

After high school and a year of College I made a half-hearted attempt at professional skiing in Aspen, Colorado and then found myself back in Flint.
