I hate being mean. I watch those roasts on Comedy Central and they make the hair on the back of my neck stand up.

~Downtown Julie Brown

I think you figure out how to be funny by necessity. It's not a natural thing, being funny in the face of tragedy is kind of demented.

~Downtown Julie Brown

I think the obsession with wanting to change yourself is crazy over the top.

~Downtown Julie Brown

There was plenty of dysfunction in my family and I went to Catholic School with these psychotic nuns. I would always try to be funny to lighten the mood.

~Downtown Julie Brown

Going to Catholic school was what fueled me into comedy. The nuns were so brutal so I used to try to make my friends laugh.

~Downtown Julie Brown

I don't just want to be successful I want to have fun.

~Downtown Julie Brown

I think I knew I was funny in Elementary School. I think most funny people realize it when they're young. It tends to come out of stress or trauma - something that makes you want to be funny.

~Downtown Julie Brown

Be relentless and then you'll break through.

~Downtown Julie Brown

This whole generation of parents - I'm guilty of it too - does too much for their kids.

~Downtown Julie Brown

I think comedians have a function in society, which is to make fun of our icons.

~Downtown Julie Brown

The best thing about becoming successful is that you get flowers all the time.

~Downtown Julie Brown

I love Kathy Griffin, I think she's brilliant, but for me, there is a line when I go OK, that's too much.

~Downtown Julie Brown

You have to do anything you can think of that gets you excited.

~Downtown Julie Brown

I was always trying to do things to make school fun.

~Downtown Julie Brown

I've known lots of people that are talented and nothing happens. It's not about talent, it's relentless drive.
