When the voice and the vision on the inside is more profound, and more clear and loud than all opinions on the outside, you've begun to master your life.

~Dr. John

You wanna do some livin' before you die. Do it down in New Orleans.

~Dr. John

I'd rather have the whole world against me than my own soul.

~Dr. John

If we don't be going strong, we're going weak, and we can't afford to go weak. We've got too many problems to do that.

~Dr. John

I started out with the guitar and was a studio musician back in the 50s, and then got shot in my finger.

~Dr. John

I been trying to clean up my act with my children for a long time. And I pretty much got them all talking to me now. And they accept me as a humanoid again.

~Dr. John

Stress is the inability to adapt to a changing environment.

~Dr. John
