Once you start overthinking it, it's like it ain't a feeling no more.

~Dreezy

I have been singing since I was kid.

~Dreezy

I was really artistic. I did a lot of poetry, a lot of writing.

~Dreezy

I used to do poetry and write stories and stuff - I never really had anybody standing over my shoulder, like, "What did you write? Let me hear it." I hate that type of stuff.

~Dreezy

Sometimes the best music is when you just put it out there.

~Dreezy

I have always been writing but when I started rapping I was just playing around. My friends told me I needed a rap name like Breezy or G-Eazy so I went with Dreezy.

~Dreezy

I used to sing when I was younger. I left it alone for a long time, 'cause I was like, I don't even know if I know how to sing for real.

~Dreezy

I have always loved music.

~Dreezy

Writing was something I always did but that turned into singing and rapping. That something that came out of my writing.

~Dreezy

I'm really thirsty to go on tour! I love putting on a show. If the crowd ain't acting bougie, I love performing.

~Dreezy

I got caught shoplifting, which is not good. I was stealing for this boy that I went with at the time, and I ended up getting a three-month punishment.

~Dreezy

I was a good student. By 8th grade, you've basically learned everything. By senior year, we was drinking, we was kickin' it, we was rapping. It wasn't really like business, hard work.

~Dreezy

My daddy was the type that if you asked him, "Dad, am I going to get off punishment soon?" - he would extend it. It was like jail.

~Dreezy

I was on the pom pom team, I was on the cheerleading team, I sang. I played football with the guys 'cause I didn't know how to play double dutch. Anything to get out the house.
