I think of the inner voice as a compass or as a wayshower to guide our path.

~Echo Bodine

What we have to realize is that when the inner voice gives us guidance, it's always going to be for our highest good - and it's always going to bring us more joy than we think.

~Echo Bodine

Our souls are getting older and we're tired of doing things the same old way. We want to find some real solutions.

~Echo Bodine

The thing about the intuition is that there's always a calmness to it, if it says yes to us or even if it says no. It's always very calm and a feeling of wisdom comes with it.

~Echo Bodine

Part of the journey here on Earth is learning how to discipline ourselves to set aside all of the voices and get to that deep voice within.

~Echo Bodine

I think it's very important for someone going to buy a book, taking a class or listening to a lecturer to ask, "Is this the right thing for me to do now? If it isn't, guide me to what I need."

~Echo Bodine

I thought my inner voice was telling me it was time to sell my house and get rid of everything that I had. But what I was told was to just make my load lighter.

~Echo Bodine

I've come to believe, on the journey of mine, that we have a still, small voice - and that voice does come from God. It's there to bring us comfort and to bring us guidance with everything.

~Echo Bodine

Using your intuition is such a wonderful way to live. It's very exciting.

~Echo Bodine

People do not always take responsibility for their own spirituality and their own spiritual relationship with God.

~Echo Bodine

There're a lot of old religious beliefs that keep us stuck. Because we're afraid of the answers, a lot of us just don't ask the questions of God.

~Echo Bodine

God doesn't want all of us to relinquish all of our material possessions.

~Echo Bodine

Intuition is something all of us have been given.

~Echo Bodine

I only read a book if I feel intuitively led to read it.

~Echo Bodine

The real freedom comes to us when we can learn to go inside and connect with that voice. Then, we're not relying on outsiders.

~Echo Bodine

Knowing is the same thing as the inner voice.

~Echo Bodine

Some people pray to their guides and feel let down by their guides when they go through a challenge in life.

~Echo Bodine

I don't focus outside of myself to my guides. I always focus inside.

~Echo Bodine

We need to be able to set all of the voices aside, and then go to the still, small voice and say, "Show me the truth of this situation."

~Echo Bodine

If you're sitting around worrying about bills all day, it's hard to hear the guidance that's coming from the inside.

~Echo Bodine

It isn't that easy to live according to intuition, yet, it's so totally cool once we can get beyond the other voices and hear our intuition.

~Echo Bodine

It's not harder to hear the inner voice when you're in a relationship, but it's more of a challenge to follow it.

~Echo Bodine

It always comes back to the fact that it is best to listen to that inner voice, whether you're in a relationship or not.

~Echo Bodine

You need to get really clear about whether this is your inner voice or just a desire that you have.

~Echo Bodine

One thing my teacher taught me about getting psychic information with my intuition was to say, "Just show me the truth of this situation, God." That helps us to be able to read it more clearly.

~Echo Bodine

I always turn to my intuition for personal guidance.

~Echo Bodine

I think too much importance is placed on spirit guides. They involve looking outside of ourselves to do it, to fix it, to tell us what to do.

~Echo Bodine

If I am intuitively led to buy and read a book, what that means is that there is something there that will help me grow spiritually.

~Echo Bodine

Sometimes people run out and read a lot of books, but they don't absorb anything from them. They want to read the next popular book.

~Echo Bodine

I want to help put some of the pieces together for people. I want to empower people so they don't have to keep going to others outside of themselves for guidance.

~Echo Bodine

If we are guided to give up our possessions, it will be a positive thing for us.
