Be prepared, work hard, and hope for a little luck. Recognize that the harder you work and the better prepared you are, the more luck you might have.

~Ed Bradley

You know, I think I still have a sense that no matter what you do, no matter what you achieve, no matter how much success you have, no matter how much money you have, relationships are important.

~Ed Bradley

I will not go into a story unprepared. I will do my homework, and that's something I learned at an early age.

~Ed Bradley

I'd watch my father get up at 5 o'clock and go down to the Eastern Market in Detroit to do the shopping for his restaurant, and get that business going and then go out on his vending machine business.

~Ed Bradley

As a child, I loved to read books. The library was a window to the world, a pathway to worlds and people far from my neighborhood in Philadelphia.

~Ed Bradley

My mother worked in factories, worked as a domestic, worked in a restaurant, always had a second job.

~Ed Bradley

The only thing I'd ever done with news was to read copy sitting at the microphone in the studio.

~Ed Bradley

Professionally, I remember Cronkite as a kid growing up, and more so for me, the importance of Cronkite was not him sitting there at the anchor desk, but him out there doing things.

~Ed Bradley

The Paris peace talks kept a roof over my head and food on the table and clothes on my back because if something was said going in or coming out, I had the rent for the month.

~Ed Bradley

I taught sixth grade for three and a half years.

~Ed Bradley

You can work hard to sharpen your talent, to get better at whatever it is that you do, and I think that's what it comes back to.

~Ed Bradley

I stayed three weeks in Paris, fell in love with the city, and decided that I was born to live in Paris.

~Ed Bradley

My uncle was a hero, Lewis Roundtree. He was not even related to me really, but he was always called my uncle. He was like a father to me. I was closer to him than I was my father.

~Ed Bradley

The people in your life are important. Meaningful relationships with those people are very important.

~Ed Bradley

There was no one around me who didn't work hard.

~Ed Bradley

And I always found that the harder I worked, the better my luck was, because I was prepared for that.

~Ed Bradley

I knew that God put me on this earth to be on the radio.

~Ed Bradley

I always felt more emotionally attached to Cambodia than I did to Vietnam.

~Ed Bradley

I had never been out covering a story, but boy, was that fun.
