

Ed Gillespie Quotes

*Party, Thinking, People, President, Running, Years, Today, Leadership, Passion, Republican, Texas, Strong, Past, America, African American,
Candidates, Maybe Tomorrow, College, Congress, House*

I think one of the problems the Democrats have today is that they are an elitist party.

~Ed Gillespie

Texas is now a cornerstone of the electoral college for Republicans.

~Ed Gillespie

Politics swings like a pendulum.

~Ed Gillespie

Well, I think the Republican Party is the more populist party.

~Ed Gillespie

The highest percentage of African Americans own their own homes today than ever in our nation's history.

~Ed Gillespie

I'm a dedicated Republican and a proud party man.

~Ed Gillespie

I think Karl Rove saw that in George W. Bush early on and understood the impact that he could have on Texas politics and probably on national politics.

~Ed Gillespie

When you were a volunteer for the Bush-Cheney campaign, you came in the morning; you had a supervisor who gave you a list of calls to make and a time to do it in.

~Ed Gillespie

Well, my wife, Cathy Gillespie, worked for Joe Barton, who was running for Congress in 1984.

~Ed Gillespie

And so it was interesting for me to find myself very enamored of a Republican president, but Ronald Reagan was someone I thought captured the spirit of America.

~Ed Gillespie

The Democratic Party is getting very angry, and that came through clearly in this election.

~Ed Gillespie

So I think that our foreign policy, the president's strong and principled leadership when it comes to the war against terror and foreign policy is going to be an asset.

~Ed Gillespie

If you're a governor of a big state, people sense your presence a little bit, even your fellow governors.

~Ed Gillespie

I'm an American first, and I think that's how most people are.

~Ed Gillespie

George W. Bush is not only a great president; he was a great candidate.

~Ed Gillespie

Even as a partisan Republican, I'm not sure a 40-year run is healthy for either party.

~Ed Gillespie

I do not believe the American people are going to confuse hatred for passion.

~Ed Gillespie

People like passion in politics.

~Ed Gillespie

Related Links:

- Party Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- People Quotes
- President Quotes
- Running Quotes
- Years Quotes
- Today Quotes
- Leadership Quotes
- Passion Quotes
- Republican Quotes
- Texas Quotes
- Strong Quotes
- Past Quotes
- America Quotes
- African American Quotes
- Candidates Quotes
- Maybe Tomorrow Quotes
- College Quotes
- Congress Quotes
- House Quotes