God invented whiskey to keep the Irish from ruling the world.

~Ed McMahon

There was a time... when people didn't go out of their house on Tuesday night at eight o'clock because Milton Berle was on.

~Ed McMahon

It's really kind of hard to be a suburb of nothing. If you don't have a downtown, you really don't have anything. It's hard to build a community around parking lots and subdivisions.

~Ed McMahon

There is no planning. On the night it is really great, it's euphoria and if it is not so great there is always tomorrow night. That was his attitude.

~Ed McMahon

Honesty is the most single most important factor having a direct bearing on the final success of an individual, corporation, or product.

~Ed McMahon

You can grow without destroying the things that you love.

~Ed McMahon

The image of a community is fundamentally important to its economic well-being. If all places look alike, there's no reason to go anywhere.

~Ed McMahon

All Americans need a sense of place. That's what makes our physical surroundings worth caring about.

~Ed McMahon

I have learned two important lessons from my association with the Marine Corps: always be on time and always be ready to do what is required when you get there.

~Ed McMahon

Johnny once described our relationship by saying we were as close as two people could be without being married.

~Ed McMahon

If you have a boat and a happy marriage, you don't need another thing.

~Ed McMahon

Agriculture is the new golf

~Ed McMahon

Golf courses sell real estate and that's why they're built.

~Ed McMahon
