The intelligent man is one who has successfully fulfilled many accomplishments, and is yet willing to learn more.

~Ed Parker

The humble man makes room for progress; the proud man believes he is already there.

~Ed Parker

If you don't ask the right questions, I can't give you the answers, and if you don't know the right question to ask, you're not ready for the answers

~Ed Parker

The true Martial Artist is not the one who fears change, but the one who causes it to happen.

~Ed Parker

He who hesitates, meditates horizontally

~Ed Parker

One becomes great when he comes to the realization that what he knows is very little.

~Ed Parker

To hear is to doubt, to see is to be deceived, but to feel is to believe.

~Ed Parker

Whether it is a big ship or small ship, the same size hole placed correctly in the hull can sink it.

~Ed Parker

To live is to change, and to obtain perfection is to change often.

~Ed Parker

There are no pure styles of karate. Purity comes only when pure knuckles meet pure flesh, no matter who delivers or receives.

~Ed Parker

It is not the aim of Kenpo to merely produce a skillful as well as powerful practitioner, but to create a well integrated student respectful of all.

~Ed Parker

Condition and guts take over where knowledge and skill end.

~Ed Parker

Humility and self-restraint is the True Objective of Kenpo

~Ed Parker

Time and space may separate us, but not the thoughts and memories that bind us.

~Ed Parker

The man who knows how will always be the student, but the man who knows why will continue to be the instructor.

~Ed Parker

Gain confidence and you banish fear.

~Ed Parker

Whatever the attitude, so is the response.

~Ed Parker

Traditionalists often study what is taught, not what there is to create.

~Ed Parker

An ounce of logic can be worth more than a ton of tradition that has become obsolete through the weathering of time.

~Ed Parker

Principles of motion take precedence over sequence of motion.
