The crest and crowning of all good, life's final star, is Brotherhood.

~Edwin Markham

There is a destiny which makes us brothers; none goes his way alone.
All that we send into the lives of others comes back into our own.

~Edwin Markham

At the heart of the cyclone tearing the sky is a place of central calm.

~Edwin Markham

Bowed by the weight of centuries he leans upon his hoe and gazes on the ground, the emptiness of ages in his face, and on his back the burden of the world.

~Edwin Markham

Ah, great it is to believe the dream as we stand in youth by the starry stream; But a greater thing is to fight life through, and at the end, 'The dream is true!'

~Edwin Markham

It is better to rust out than wear out.

~Edwin Markham

Defeat may serve as well as victory to shake the soul and let the glory out.

~Edwin Markham

For all your days be prepared, and meet them ever alike. When you are the anvil, bear - when you are the hammer, strike.

~Edwin Markham

Choices are the hinges of destiny.

~Edwin Markham

To throw oneself to the side of the oppressed is the only dignified thing to do in life.

~Edwin Markham

We have committed the Golden Rule to memory; let us now commit it to life.

~Edwin Markham

He drew a circle that shut me out- Heretic , rebel, a thing to flout. But love and I had the wit to win: We drew a circle and took him In ! From the poem " Outwitted

~Edwin Markham

Sorrows come to stretch out places in the heart for joy.

~Edwin Markham

He fed his spirit with the bread of books

~Edwin Markham

The thing that is incredible is life itself. Why should we be here in this sun-illuminated universe? Why should there be green earth under our feet?

~Edwin Markham

Only the soul that knows the mighty grief can know the mighty rapture. Sorrows come to stretch out spaces in the heart for joy.

~Edwin Markham

Oft when the white, still dawn lifted the skies and pushed the hills apart, I have felt it like a glory in my heart.

~Edwin Markham

By a divine paradox, wherever there is one slave there are two. So in the wonderful reciprocities of being, we can never reach the higher levels until all our fellows ascend with us.

~Edwin Markham

By a divine paradox, wherever there is one slave there are two

~Edwin Markham

Three were the fates. Poverty that chains; gray drudgery that grinds the hope away, and gaping ignorance that starves the soul.

~Edwin Markham

The thing that is incredible is life itself.

~Edwin Markham

In vain we build the city if we do not first build the man.

~Edwin Markham

I fear the vermin that shall undermine Senate and citadel and school and shrine.

~Edwin Markham

No soul can be forever banned, Eternally bereft, Whoever falls from God's right hand Is caught into his left.

~Edwin Markham

Here is the Truth in a little creed, Enough for all the roads we go: In Love is all the law we need, In Christ is all the God we know.

~Edwin Markham

Lincoln, the Man of the People

~Edwin Markham

That in the human plan nothing is worth the making if it does not make the man.

~Edwin Markham

Mr. Rihani is a man of ardent poetic temperament, a clever poet, and a man of unworldly ideals.

~Edwin Markham

There is no true liberty for the individual except as he finds it in the liberty of all. There is no true security for the individual except as he finds it in the security for all.
