Pity those who cannot say: Thy will be done not mine, today.

~Elaine A. Cannon

The Lord, creator of life, has given us information to act upon that is guaranteed by him to guide us to our goal of life eternal.

~Elaine A. Cannon

What this misguided world and generation needs is a massive group of courageous and caring, wise and unwearying women.

~Elaine A. Cannon

There are so many options, so much to do, so many demands on Women. There is no point in taking one hour to do a ten-minute task, nor should we slap together an hour-worthy project in ten minutes.

~Elaine A. Cannon

If we had everything we wanted and needed without asking of Heavenly Father, we would lose sight of the hand of God in our lives.

~Elaine A. Cannon

Through prayer, our free agency is used to admit and confess our deep desire to have God's help in our lives.

~Elaine A. Cannon

Never forget that you have the spark of the divine in you. Whatever you do or don't do won't change this fact.

~Elaine A. Cannon

Life's extremities can bring God's proximity.

~Elaine A. Cannon

Take a hard look at those things, which we needlessly turn into burdens, when they were meant to be blessings.

~Elaine A. Cannon

Every burden on the back can become a gift in the hand.

~Elaine A. Cannon

If we want to be used for the benefit of mankind-helping the Lord with his mission-we must ourselves be in a position to be used by him.

~Elaine A. Cannon

As an extension of Christ in the lives of his children is the only trend enough for a woman's precious energies.

~Elaine A. Cannon

At work you worry over the family at home. At home you fret over work left undone. Behold the working woman's stress.

~Elaine A. Cannon

A life's record with God in the details can be a spiritual feast for our souls. When we count our blessings on paper, our gratitude soars. It is all so evident.

~Elaine A. Cannon

Unless inside, where no one sees, our soul is kneeling, too, a prayer is not so likely to get through.

~Elaine A. Cannon

A search of one's life and soul will reveal the hand of God. The outpouring of his blessings come with our afflictions, not in spite of them. Afflictions be praised!

~Elaine A. Cannon

Obedience sets a woman apart, fills her with life, permits her to be God-blessed.
