

Elizabeth Hurley

Quotes

Children, People, Thinking, Sleep, Coffee, Want, Running, House, Jobs, Girl, Feels, America, Breasts, Bed, Hate, Fats, Cancer, Skins, Sports, Glamour

I always wear make-up as I've never seen the point of looking less than your best.

~Elizabeth Hurley

A bit of lusting after someone does wonders for the skin.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I love to see other women in pink. It's good for every shade of skin and hair.

~Elizabeth Hurley

It's very hard to get the dynamics where two people can stimulate each other and be happy.

~Elizabeth Hurley

Nothing irritates me more than chronic laziness in others. Mind you, it's only mental sloth I object to. Physical sloth can be heavenly.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I am a terrible mixture of being organized, controlling, but chaotic. My desk is monstrous.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I have three lives: actress, model, producer. Sometimes I'm aware that there's a fourth life, which is somewhat neglected, which is living a bit.

~Elizabeth Hurley

During production, I didn't ever have one minute off to go file my nails, or do anything which girls quite like to do some of the time. I couldn't do anything. I turned into a zombie.

~Elizabeth Hurley

When bad things happen, it's the time when you get to work in the garden and sort out the pots from the weeds.

~Elizabeth Hurley

Spending time outdoors makes you feel great.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I like people to match my energy.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I've always been obsessed by beef jerky.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I was completely loyal and faithful to Stephen throughout this time as, indeed, he assured me he was to me.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I love glamorous women. Hugh adores glamour, as well. Im completely behind women dressing up and looking as good as they can.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I love pilates and yoga but don't do them regularly.

~Elizabeth Hurley

Why look worse when you can look better?

~Elizabeth Hurley

I've always wanted to be a spy, and frankly I'm a little surprised that British intelligence has never approached me.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I'd kill myself if I was as fat as Marilyn Monroe.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I don't want someone to watch sports in bed. That drives me nuts.

~Elizabeth Hurley

It's appalling that there should be hunger anywhere, but particularly in a country like America, where there is also such great wealth.

~Elizabeth Hurley

You can't force someone to learn. You present these beautiful lines that have so much to do with the world today and let them fall where they will.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I have always been attracted to Australians and Australia.

~Elizabeth Hurley

It's all about portion control. Grilled fish, a small amount of wild rice and vegetables is a good meal.

~Elizabeth Hurley

Hugh Grant is fantastic in bed. He always has been.

~Elizabeth Hurley

Being English, I always laugh at anything to do with the lavatory or bottoms.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I keep getting these extraordinary letters, really weird ones from American sports stars - I've always thought you were one pretty lady and now that you're single I want to meet you for a drink.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I do like my life very much, yes.

~Elizabeth Hurley

In America uniformed cops eat in coffee shops, diners and restaurants and I always feel safer having them around.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I feel like a semi-single mum.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I don't know much about only children. I was the middle one of three, and if ever I was alone with mum and dad, it was a rare moment.

~Elizabeth Hurley

It took me six years to be comfortable modeling a swimsuit.

~Elizabeth Hurley

The whole thing with modeling with Estee Lauder - no one could have a better, nicer modeling job.

~Elizabeth Hurley

[On her seven-month-old son:] When people see me carrying him in the street they think I'm being attacked by a short, bald man. But it's just me with my little fat child.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I think, if you were being cruel to animals, then the thought of eating them would be horrific.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I certainly don't want a child of mine to be famous, or anyone I was very close to who isn't yet... It's the worst thing to be trapped in your house not be able to leave.

~Elizabeth Hurley

Divorce is, of course, difficult for a child. I didn't go through it as my parents stayed together, but I have a lot of friends who did.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I love moving. I love new houses. I'm always looking for somewhere else.

~Elizabeth Hurley

You know, I've virtually never been chatted up in my life, it's true.

~Elizabeth Hurley

It's definitely part of my job description not to be too fat.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I'm very attracted to Indians.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I am passionate about talking to women about their breast health.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I walk every day with my dogs and force myself to run a bit but I hate it.

~Elizabeth Hurley

Getting as much sleep as possible and following a healthy diet will stop you from feeling run-down if, like me, you're super-stressed.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I didn't have a cup of coffee until I was 27.

~Elizabeth Hurley

I know so many people who have battled breast cancer and they didn't all make it.

~Elizabeth Hurley

Related Links:

- Children Quotes
- People Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- Sleep Quotes
- Coffee Quotes
- Want Quotes
- Running Quotes
- House Quotes
- Jobs Quotes
- Girl Quotes
- Feels Quotes
- America Quotes
- Breasts Quotes
- Bed Quotes
- Hate Quotes
- Fats Quotes
- Cancer Quotes
- Skins Quotes
- Sports Quotes
- Glamour Quotes