The longer I live the more conscious I am of human frailty, and of the constant, overwhelming need we all have of God's grace.

~Elizabeth Prentiss

The thorny path bears some of the sweetest flowers that adorn life. And when with naked, bleeding feet we walk upon a flinty soil, we often find diamonds.

~Elizabeth Prentiss

Some of His children must go into the furnace to testify that the Son of God is there with them.

~Elizabeth Prentiss

Much of my experience of life has cost me a great price and I wish to use it for strengthening and comforting other souls.

~Elizabeth Prentiss

If the loss of your fortune gains Christ for you, it will be a beautiful loss.

~Elizabeth Prentiss

We must be wise taskmasters and not require of ourselves what we cannot possibly perform. Recreation we must have. Otherwise, the strings of our soul, wound up to an unnatural tension, will break.

~Elizabeth Prentiss

Ah, what a life is theirs who live in Christ; How vast the mystery!
Reaching in height to heaven, and in its depth The unfathomed sea!

~Elizabeth Prentiss

No truth can be said to be seen as it is until it is seen in its relation to all other truths. In this relation only is it true.

~Elizabeth Prentiss

The best convent for a woman is the seclusion of her own home. There she may find her vocation and fight her battles, and there she may learn the reality and the earnestness of life.

~Elizabeth Prentiss

Sleep, baby, sleep. Thy father's watching the sheep. Thy mother's shaking the dreamland tree, and down drops a little dream for thee.

~Elizabeth Prentiss

It sweetens every bit of work to think that I am doing it in humble, far-off, yet real imitation of Jesus.

~Elizabeth Prentiss

The question is not whether you ever gave yourself to God, but whether you are His now.

~Elizabeth Prentiss

O happy life! life hid with Christ in God! So making me At home and by the wayside and abroad, Alone with Thee.
