Things end. People leave. And you know what? Life goes on. Besides, if bad things didn't happen, how would you be able to feel the good ones?

~Elizabeth Scott

The world will knock you down plenty. You don't need to be doing it to yourself.

~Elizabeth Scott

The truth is, I feel beyond sad. I feel empty. Numb.

~Elizabeth Scott

Why do people think being with someone is the answer to everything?

~Elizabeth Scott

Things change. Stuff happens. Life goes on.

~Elizabeth Scott

I do not fall. I fell so hard so long ago there is nothing left for me to land on. I just keep falling and falling and falling.

~Elizabeth Scott

Anger can try to break your heart, but sorrow is what will. What can. What does.

~Elizabeth Scott

I want to care, but I don't. I look at you and all I feel is tired.

~Elizabeth Scott

I want to care, but I don't. I look at you and all I feel is tired. I walk through school and all I want to do is leave. I wake up in the morning and don't know why I'm here. I feel like I'm not real.

~Elizabeth Scott

I don't eat bread.' Is she pouting? It's hard to tell. She's had a lot of chemicals injected into her face.

~Elizabeth Scott

But the past couple of days I've missed you so much it's felt like missing you is all I am.

~Elizabeth Scott

Little Alice, all hollowed out, so easy to smash into a million little pieces.

~Elizabeth Scott

I love books. I like that the moment you open one and sink into it you can escape from the world, into a story that's way more interesting than yours will ever be.

~Elizabeth Scott

The thing about hearts is that they always want to keep beating

~Elizabeth Scott

And what if---what are you if the people who are supposed to love you can leave you like you're nothing?

~Elizabeth Scott

Things... well, things suck sometimes. And sometimes you can fix it. And sometimes you can't. It's just the way it is.

~Elizabeth Scott

Sometimes being me is very confusing.

~Elizabeth Scott

...sometimes, you have to break your own heart.

~Elizabeth Scott

Because I-I'm someone who wants to kiss you. Be with you." Eli says as if it is obvious, as if I know what is written on his heart.

~Elizabeth Scott

I'm broken, I have cut myself wide open. I can see my heart and it is not what I believed it was, it is not good and kind and all the things I have always thought I am.

~Elizabeth Scott

it's just...today has really sucked, and when you're around stuff doesn't seem so crappy - Will

~Elizabeth Scott

But I know a lie when I hear one.

~Elizabeth Scott

I'll always remember taking your hand and telling you that everything would be okay.

~Elizabeth Scott

Three life lessons: 1.No one will see you. 2.No one will say anything. 3.No one will save you.

~Elizabeth Scott

Too late, too late, juice pouring does not a kind soul make, and I killed you.

~Elizabeth Scott

This is the real unwritten rule: You don't want what you know you shouldn't. And I haven't just broken that rule. I have wrecked it, smashed it, and still... And still I want.

~Elizabeth Scott

I thought living dead girls couldn't feel pain, thought I was emptied out but I'm not, I'm not.

~Elizabeth Scott

Something in me, in my bruised heart, wakes up, and even though I'm terrified, I don't push the feeling away.

~Elizabeth Scott

I have been smashed and put back together so many times nothing works right. Nothing is where it should be, heavy thumping in my shoulder where my heart now beats.

~Elizabeth Scott

She became a story, one I have mostly forgotten. One I can't end because she died a long time ago.

~Elizabeth Scott

I don't know how I know that, but I do. I can feel the beat of that truth inside me. Taste it bitter on my tongue. Sometimes, like now, I didn't think I want to know who I really am.

~Elizabeth Scott

Talking about someone who makes you happy actually makes you happy. Being happy makes you want to talk, to go over everything, to share it so you can remember it all over again.

~Elizabeth Scott

My full name is Lauren Lee Smith. Of all the names I could have been given, that's the one I got. Lauren Lee Smith. It has all the personality of a toaster.

~Elizabeth Scott

I think love is huge, overwhelming. I think it's terrible and beautiful.

~Elizabeth Scott

I'd forgotten how much feelings hurt.

~Elizabeth Scott

I felt nothing all the time, and it had started to feel normal. It should have scared me, but it didn't.

~Elizabeth Scott

I don't know, shifted a little or something, smoothed down-people would think of me the way they think of Dave, and everything would always be perfect. I would be perfect.

~Elizabeth Scott

The sun will rise tomorrow. It always does, and all the wishing in the world for the way things were, or for what they could have been, won't change that. It won't change how things are.

~Elizabeth Scott

The thing is, that world doesn't exist. All growing up means is that you realize no one will come along to fix things. No one will come along to save you.

~Elizabeth Scott

I don't think I could have picked a worse guy to be my soul mate.

~Elizabeth Scott

The heart is a place with worm holes made by feelings you aren't supposed to have but do.

~Elizabeth Scott

the thing is you can get used to anything you think you cant you want to die but you dont you cant you just are

~Elizabeth Scott

You know who you are you just have to believe it.

~Elizabeth Scott

You're right . . . you can't go back. No matter how much you want to, you never can

~Elizabeth Scott

I didn't feel anything watching him go. I didn't even wish I did.

~Elizabeth Scott

Well as much as I'm sure the people next door who are pretending they aren't looking at me would like to hear what I have to say, I'd rather say it to just you.

~Elizabeth Scott

Hope was supposed to be a good thing, but it was starting to feel like every other four-letter word you're not supposed to say.

~Elizabeth Scott

I think you're the saddest person I've ever met. It's like you're drowning in it.

~Elizabeth Scott

Please. If you were mostly dead in the middle of the road I'd obviously stop. And then I'd watch you die." Kate to Will

~Elizabeth Scott

It was like we were all so busy trying to be happy or saying we were happy, but underneath there was nothing but bitterness, the kind that could only be bled out in ink, in unspoken word.

~Elizabeth Scott

She looked at me for real and saw I was serious. She saw I knew she was for me like you know that tomorrow morning the sun will rise.

~Elizabeth Scott

Just once, I wanted to lose something without the whole world watching.

~Elizabeth Scott

I wants us to be real. I want to be just you and me. - Ryan

~Elizabeth Scott

I know who I want to be with, and it isn't her. - Ryan

~Elizabeth Scott

Once upon a time, I did not live in Shady Pines. Once upon a time, my name was not Alice. Once upon a time, I didn't know how lucky I was.

~Elizabeth Scott

I knew I was having a panic attack. I hadn't had one in a while, though, and I'd forgotten how they made everything like it- and I- was going to fall apart. How they reminded me of how trapped I was.

~Elizabeth Scott

Cute" is one of those words people use when they know you're smart enough to realize "you've got so much personality" means "you're ugly.

~Elizabeth Scott

Grace is my favourite church word. A state of being. Something you can pray for. Something God can grant. Something you can obtain. Perfection is out of reach. But grace -- grace you can reach for.

~Elizabeth Scott

I suppose he's making a real fashion statement, but this is high school. You're not supposed to be real. You're supposed to be enough like everyone else to get through and out into the waiting world.

~Elizabeth Scott

Talking about someone who makes you happy actually makes you happy.

~Elizabeth Scott

I didn't want to see it. I didn't think he'd ever really notice me, and in the end, he didn't.

~Elizabeth Scott

I'd dressed up and hoped and I was so tired of doing that, so tired of dreaming and being unable to stop it despite the fact that I'd seen, maybe better than anyone here, what dreams could do to you.

~Elizabeth Scott

I think...I think sometimes that's how it is. Sometimes people have to go before you get stuff. Before you can really get it.

~Elizabeth Scott

Look at me. We aren't them lauren. You're not your mother or father any more than I'm my mother. You're you and I'm me and I love you.

~Elizabeth Scott

I deserved the shaking and the headaches and the fact that every single time I took a breath I felt a squeezing in my chest, my heart beating even though I wished it wasn't.

~Elizabeth Scott

I told you we were meant to be," he says, still smiling, still so Finn, who was always here but who I just didn't see and now-- Well, now I kiss him.

~Elizabeth Scott

So, you're telling me that no matter what, you can't be happy? Well, darling, it's no wonder you're miserable. It's what you want...So then try (to be happy).

~Elizabeth Scott

I liked him first, but it doesn't matter. I still like him. That doesn't matter either. Or at least, it's not supposed to.

~Elizabeth Scott

I never went for the talkers.

~Elizabeth Scott

Darling, the world doesn't owe you anything.

~Elizabeth Scott

It's bullshit. It's so easy to label people, to look at a list of symptoms and say, "This is who you are. This is what you are.

~Elizabeth Scott

All the things I've thought about love are true. It's beautiful and terrible and it doesn't make things perfect. It ends things, and it brings beginnings. This is mine.

~Elizabeth Scott

And yet here I am. Broken and bleeding on the inside, heartsick, I am here.

~Elizabeth Scott

'That's you, right?' he asks me. 'Yeah.' 'Cute. Not that I, uh, think little kids are cute. Just that you were cute. I mean, you can see how you turned out to be so...oh.

~Elizabeth Scott

'And youâ€¦ do you know what you are?â€• â€œStupid?â€•
â€œBeautiful,â€• he says, his face turning red.

~Elizabeth Scott

I wish it had never happened because then I wouldn't think about it as I'm falling asleep.

~Elizabeth Scott

I want to lie down on the bench then, or better yet, on the grass, rest on something living and see if I can hear the dead underneath.

~Elizabeth Scott

I heard how people sounded when their dreams were shattered, when their lives were turned into a waking nightmare.

~Elizabeth Scott
