I don't want Christmas season to end, because it's the only time I can legitimately indulge in on particular addiction: glitter.

~Eloisa James

Dogs come when they're called; cats take a message and get back to you later.

~Eloisa James

My duchess,â€• James stated, his eyes sweeping the crowd with the air of a man who has ruled the waves. â€œShe is not a swan, because that would imply she had once been an ugly duckling.

~Eloisa James

Dogs are high on life. Cats need catnip.

~Eloisa James

We all think we have time, you know. It's this miracle substance and there seems to be so much of it, and then all of a sudden, it's gone.

~Eloisa James

Shame can kill the imagination. It's hard to keep writing in the face of cultural derision.

~Eloisa James

There's nothing I like more than meeting velvet clad peers while wrapped in a towel.

~Eloisa James

In case there is any question in your mind," he said, cupping her face with his hands. "What I want, what I most desire, the loveliest sight on this dark earth, is you.

~Eloisa James

Dogs do tricks. Cats play tricks.

~Eloisa James

Life should not be measured by time. The only thing that counts is how one uses the time one has.

~Eloisa James

Cats always land on their feet. Dogs don't.

~Eloisa James

Yes, it's quite amazing how I continue to shock my mother even after all these years together

~Eloisa James

It's better to live like a flame, to know a man and love him even if he can't be yours, then never to love at all.

~Eloisa James

Discretion is a synonym for intelligence.

~Eloisa James

Sometimes I spend all day in my dressing gown. But if I do dress, I make myself ravishing because then, I feel ravishing.

~Eloisa James

I didn't realize you needed a response. When Hamlet is giving a monologue, he just goes on and on by himself.

~Eloisa James

I love you," he said, his voice catching. "When I thought you were going to die, I wanted to die.

~Eloisa James

Yes Leopold," Eleanor said in a low, mocking voice. "Do start to shine, please. I think I saw the rising, but I definitely missed the shining.

~Eloisa James

One more time, she promised herself. That wasn't too trollopy. She wouldn't be too trollopy. But when they actually got to the guardhouse? Trollopy.

~Eloisa James

I never did learn how to live in the moment, but I did learn that moments could be wasted and the world would continue to spin on its axis.

~Eloisa James

Life does not always gives us the choices that we want

~Eloisa James

He's male. I've noticed that sometimes the brains simply get left out of the package.

~Eloisa James

If you don't mind a word of advice, one never asks a lady to set her own price. If you have to ask, the answer will always be more than you can afford.

~Eloisa James

I don't want to have to earn love by giving up my ability to make decisions that determine how I live.

~Eloisa James

You don't know how easy death is. It's - it's like a door. A person simply walks through it, and she's lost to you forever.

~Eloisa James

Let go of the anger, hang on to the good lessons.

~Eloisa James

I would prefer not to throw myself on a funeral pyre. Please come back to me.

~Eloisa James

Life without a phone is riskier, lonelier, more vivid.
