It's so hard to fight against someone who is stuck in what they believe whether you agree with it or not.

~Emayatzy E. Corinealdi

After high school, I had $2,000 saved, and I packed everything I could into my '95 Nissan Sentra with no air-conditioning, and I drove out to L.A.

~Emayatzy E. Corinealdi

Climbing trees is still one of my favorite things to do. A tree and a good book and I'm happy.

~Emayatzy E. Corinealdi

Know your history. It can teach you who you are, where you have come from, and how to be a better person as a result.

~Emayatzy E. Corinealdi

God has always been the head of my life, even before I knew it.

~Emayatzy E. Corinealdi

I just love drama. I love the idea of exploring relationships, whatever they may be. That's fun for me.

~Emayatzy E. Corinealdi

I am a woman who stands up for what she believes.

~Emayatzy E. Corinealdi

I like what looks good on me and, as a result, I don't find myself drawn to one specific designer all the time.

~Emayatzy E. Corinealdi

My mom always wanted me be a ballerina, and I was just adamant that I wanted to be a track star. I wanted nothing to do with ballet.

~Emayatzy E. Corinealdi

I would love to try my hand at directing and even producing in some kind of way. Something about that intrigues me, but for directing I could completely see myself trying.

~Emayatzy E. Corinealdi

I remember thinking, in Kansas my name will be Evett - which is my middle name. I didn't want to explain to anyone how to say Em-a-yat-zee.

~Emayatzy E. Corinealdi

We left Germany when I was 11.

~Emayatzy E. Corinealdi

Not long ago someone said I should shorten it to just Emma. But I really, really love my name. From as far as I can remember, my parents have taught me to be really proud of my name.
