

Emily Blunt Quotes

Thinking, People, Character, Trying, Jobs, Looks, Nice, Years, Fun, Want, Stupid, Should, America, Real, Persons, Girl, Mean, Roles, Needs, Way

The business is all about gush and hype. You never have a bad meeting in L.A.

~Emily Blunt

I used to look like a deer in headlights on the red carpet. You step out of the car and it's bedlam. Everyone's got crazy eyes.

~Emily Blunt

I appreciate a slow-burn romance. In most movies, everyone is just tearing their clothes off in the first scene.

~Emily Blunt

When you're in love, you're so happy that you want to tell people about it. But now I have to censor myself. You need to protect the happiness you have.

~Emily Blunt

The more we mask ourselves, the freer we're able to be within ourselves.

~Emily Blunt

I love ambiguity. People are that way. People are very hard to work out. No one is just strong or just fragile, or anything like that.

~Emily Blunt

People quit on jobs. They quit on marriages. They quit on school. There's an immediacy of this day and age that doesn't lend itself to being committed to anything.

~Emily Blunt

There is absolutely, 100 percent, a light at the end of the tunnel for anyone who stutters.

~Emily Blunt

I've always been quite a spontaneous person, so I would lean more towards, if you feel it and you know its right, then do it.

~Emily Blunt

Things happen in the way they usually should. I'm a pretty fatalistic person.

~Emily Blunt

It's quite hard to faze me. I'm fairly un-shockable.

~Emily Blunt

If you can capture the humanity of a family struggling in an economic crisis you can make a difference. You can raise awareness just of the simple humanity.

~Emily Blunt

I think I'm drawn to characters with complexity or who are under duress in some way and have some conflict going on.

~Emily Blunt

I chop a lot of onions because I love cooking, and the times where I've never cried chopping onions is when I'm not thinking about it, when I'm talking to someone or I'm listening to music.

~Emily Blunt

Cate's absolutely spellbinding. She was like that just eating a sandwich. I knew at the time I was privileged, but since she's become God's gift to actresses I realise exactly how lucky I was.

~Emily Blunt

I'm kind of effectively bipolar.

~Emily Blunt

I do try hard to pick roles that differ. I love that about the job. I think the variety that's out there is to be taken advantage of and I enjoy that element of shape shifting with everything.

~Emily Blunt

I really asked myself, "Oh, my god, how am I going to do this?" That's what I aspire to, every time I take on a new role.

~Emily Blunt

I do strive to find projects that are trying to carve out some new space. I enjoy projects that leap away from the crowd a little bit.

~Emily Blunt

It just proves good movies don't need 100 million dollars to be good.

~Emily Blunt

I think it is nice for people to appreciate a slow-burning, beautiful story that makes you feel good when it is over.

~Emily Blunt

You can go at the premiere it's at Disneyland.

~Emily Blunt

With Ricky Gervais, it's all shades of wrong, it's my kind of humor.

~Emily Blunt

Watch the History Channel if you want it literal and historically perfect.

~Emily Blunt

I would love to be on Broadway!

~Emily Blunt

I'm not someone who likes to plan too much ahead.

~Emily Blunt

I find it quite hard to sum up my relationship in a sound bite. I feel that it trivializes it for other people's pleasure. It's an adventure.

~Emily Blunt

People just want to know something, anything. It's all the stuff you never want to talk about, the private stuff.

~Emily Blunt

It's nerve-wracking singing in front of people. I think that's why most people get drunk for karaoke.

~Emily Blunt

I attempted to fish in Scotland and I managed to hook a dog. It was a horrible moment but the dog turned out to be fine.

~Emily Blunt

I always think that the most interesting characters are those that are trying to cover something or those that have some sense of bravado or composure.

~Emily Blunt

Give us a break! I've hardly done anything but independent films.

~Emily Blunt

My personal feeling is that audiences are crying out for stories they can invest in and feel. I see a lot of big movies that leave me feeling rather numb.

~Emily Blunt

It's nothing to be ashamed of to have a stutter.

~Emily Blunt

I'm such a diva on set.

~Emily Blunt

I'm on a health kick! I'm drawn to cheeseburgers, so I've got to just try and keep it on an even keel.

~Emily Blunt

I want to find something really wonderful to do next and take my time to search through the dearth of great material, especially for women.

~Emily Blunt

What's wonderful about Into The Woods is that you have a combination of all the most famous fairytales in this one story.

~Emily Blunt

Why should you have to atone for making big movies?

~Emily Blunt

As long as everyone is playing for the scene or the movie, rather than themselves, then you're going to have something really good.

~Emily Blunt

I don't really watch that much TV, to be honest.

~Emily Blunt

When I read a script, I'll have a very visceral gut reaction to what does this mean to me? How does she feel in my skin? Could I play this role?

~Emily Blunt

I almost broke my coccyx on 'The Wolf Man,' and I banged my head once. I had to fall really hard.

~Emily Blunt

After this interview, I'm going to immigration to try to sort out my Green Card, just like any other normal person.

~Emily Blunt

It's funny, because when you work on a set, everyone is watching you. You are being observed by everyone.

~Emily Blunt

I'm about to do my second Bikram yoga class in Anchorage, Alaska. It's the only way to stay warm. I've got to get into shape. I've been eating nothing but fish and chips.

~Emily Blunt

I think that's almost what it is sometimes if you sum up what acting is. It's just the ultimate expression of empathy.

~Emily Blunt

It's a big chip on my shoulder that I have not been to any of his parties - P. Diddy, Diddy Puff. But he was super nice to me. And he does look sharp, that guy. Doesn't ever go wrong with a suit.

~Emily Blunt

Personally, I'm an advocate for short engagements. Long sometimes means there is a reason for it. Two years engaged and no wedding... I'd be upset.

~Emily Blunt

I find that it really helps that I live in the States. I'm married to an American, and I have lots of American friends.

~Emily Blunt

I'm not much of a crier but it is mildly soul-destroying and exposing to do something physical that you are terrible at in front of other people.

~Emily Blunt

I think for me the job always has to be the right thing at the right time.

~Emily Blunt

I love character roles. I'm happier in them. I look for roles that have some kind of complexity.

~Emily Blunt

I don't think I'm the best singer in the world, for sure, but I loved doing it in 'Into the Woods.' I'll always find it tough, singing in front of people.

~Emily Blunt

I had to learn to dance for 'The Adjustment Bureau' and it was nearly impossible. I turned up with my knees knocking in my leotard and went home and cried my eyes out.

~Emily Blunt

A lot of period dramas can appear quite arch to most people, stuffy.

~Emily Blunt

Well, you wear underwear. That helps.

~Emily Blunt

It's very hard to play the straight lead girl and still make her sparkly and fun and real.

~Emily Blunt

It's nice to play someone who is naive.

~Emily Blunt

I'm definitely not a science nerd. That was not my forte at school.

~Emily Blunt

You feel very much like a puppet, but it had been what I was accustomed to - so you just get on with it and try to find something that rings true.

~Emily Blunt

Related Links:

- Thinking Quotes
- People Quotes
- Character Quotes
- Trying Quotes
- Jobs Quotes
- Looks Quotes
- Nice Quotes
- Years Quotes
- Fun Quotes
- Want Quotes
- Stupid Quotes
- Should Quotes
- America Quotes
- Real Quotes
- Persons Quotes
- Girl Quotes
- Mean Quotes
- Roles Quotes
- Needs Quotes
- Way Quotes