As I look ahead, I am filled with foreboding. Like the Roman, I seem to see "the River Tiber foaming with much blood.

~Enoch Powell

In the end, the Labour party could cease to represent labour. Stranger historic ironies have happened than that.

~Enoch Powell

I hope those who shouted "Fascist" and "Nazi" are aware that before they were born I was fighting against Fascism and Nazism.

~Enoch Powell

A politician complaining about the media is like a sailor complaining about the sea.

~Enoch Powell

Independence, the freedom of a self-governing nation, is in my estimation the highest political good, for which any disadvantage, if need be, and any sacrifice are a cheap price.

~Enoch Powell

All political lives, unless they are cut off in midstream at a happy juncture, end in failure, because that is the nature of politics and of human affairs.

~Enoch Powell

The supreme function of statesmanship is to provide against preventable evils.

~Enoch Powell

If my ship sails from sight, it doesn't mean my journey ends, it simply means the river bends.

~Enoch Powell

If I cannot understand my friend's silence, I will never get to understand his words.

~Enoch Powell

People are disposed to mistake predicting troubles for causing troubles and even for desiring troubles.

~Enoch Powell

The enemies of advertising are the enemies of freedom.

~Enoch Powell

History is littered with the wars which everybody knew would never happen.

~Enoch Powell

Values exist in a transcendental realm, beyond space and time. They can neither be fought for, nor destroyed.

~Enoch Powell

No battle is worth fighting except the last one.

~Enoch Powell

I have set and always will set my face like flint against making any difference between one citizen of this country and another on grounds of his origin.

~Enoch Powell

If in the words which the Secretary of State has just used, the use of a nuclear weapon is to be avoided 'at all costs'. what is the point of having one?

~Enoch Powell

The life of nations no less than that of men is lived largely in the imagination.

~Enoch Powell

Of all political sacred-cows, education is the most sacred and the most cow-like.

~Enoch Powell

It is the English, not their Government; for if they were not blind cowards, they would lynch Chamberlain and Halifax and all the other smarmy traitors.

~Enoch Powell

I will not surrender responsibility for my life and my actions.

~Enoch Powell

Paisley has been and remains a greater threat to the Union than the Foreign Office and the Provisional IRA rolled into one.

~Enoch Powell

A single currency means a single government, and that single government would be the government whose policies determined every aspect of economic life.

~Enoch Powell

You have to give the electorate a tune they can whistle.

~Enoch Powell

It is no accident that wherever the State has taken economic decision away from the citizen, it has deprived him of his other liberties as well.

~Enoch Powell

I should like to have been killed in the war.

~Enoch Powell

When I repress my emotion my stomach keeps score.

~Enoch Powell

Politicians who complain about the media are like sailors who complain about the sea.

~Enoch Powell

I do not keep a diary. Never have. To write a diary every day is like returning to one's own vomit.

~Enoch Powell

I am the last person whom it would be reasonable to expect to leave the Conservative Party.

~Enoch Powell

'Helping industry' is the elephant pit of socialism, a deep hole with sharp spikes at the bottom, covered over with twigs and fresh grass.

~Enoch Powell

The happiest and most glorious hours of my life with books have been with German books.

~Enoch Powell

It so happens that I never talk about race. I do not know what race is.

~Enoch Powell

A little nonsense now and then is not a bad thing - where would we politicians be if we were not allowed to talk it sometimes.

~Enoch Powell
