Yet the basic fact remains: we live in a world marked by violence, and if we want to protect others, we sometimes have to be willing to fight.

~Eric Greitens

There were a number of definitions of courage, but now I was seeing it in its simplest form: you do what has to be done day after day, and you never quit.

~Eric Greitens

Remember that deciding is not doing, and wanting is not choosing. Transformation will take place not because of what you decide you want, but because of what you choose to do.

~Eric Greitens

As warriors, as humanitarians, they've taught me that without courage, compassion falters, and that without compassion, courage has no direction.

~Eric Greitens

...it's not enough to fight for a better world; we also have to live lives worth fighting for.

~Eric Greitens

Life is short. Life is uncertain. But we know that we have today. And we have each other. I believe that for each of us, there is a place on the frontlines.

~Eric Greitens

If we want to change something, we must begin with understanding. But if we want to love something, we must begin with acceptance.

~Eric Greitens

Alone, human beings can feel hunger. Alone, we can feel cold. Alone, we can feel pain. To feel poor, however, is something we do only in comparison to others.

~Eric Greitens

If people can live through genocide and retain compassion, if they can take strength in pain, if they are able, still, to laugh, then certainly we can learn something from them.

~Eric Greitens

Federal overreach from agencies like the EPA is hurting family farms. I will fight against these crippling regulations, and always side with the hard working farmers and ranchers of Missouri.
