True love comes quietly, without banners or flashing lights. If you hear bells, get your ears checked.

~Erich Segal

This isn't a watercolor, it's a mural.

~Erich Segal

It takes someone very special to help you forget someone very special.

~Erich Segal

Some were brilliant bordering on genius. Others, genius bordering on madness

~Erich Segal

Love means not ever having to say you're sorry.

~Erich Segal

Sometimes I ask myself what would I be if Jenny were alive. And then I answer : I would also be alive." - Oliver.

~Erich Segal

Part of being a big winner is the ability to be a big loser. There is no paradox involved. It is a distinctly Harvard thing to be able to turn any defeat into victory

~Erich Segal

And then I did what I had never done in his presence, much less in his arms. I cried.

~Erich Segal

Professors of classics - not even a professor of English - professors of classics, they're something sacred; it's almost like being a priest.

~Erich Segal

I was afraid of being rejected, yes. I was also afraid of being accepted for the wrong reasons.

~Erich Segal

Quiet heroism or youthful idealism, or both? What do we know? That life without heroism and idealism is not worth living - or that either can be fatal?

~Erich Segal

What can you say about a twenty-five year old girl who died? That she was beautiful and brilliant. That she loved Mozart and Bach. The Beatles. And me.

~Erich Segal

What can you say about a twenty-five-year-old girl who died?

~Erich Segal

Something may have been lost in translation, but it certainly wasn't love

~Erich Segal

although science could pinpoint the exact spot in the brain that ignites rage, they had yet to identify the location that produces love.

~Erich Segal

Her handwriting was curious — small sharp little letters with no capitals (who did she think she was, e. e. cummings?).

~Erich Segal

Please, if one of us cries, let both of us cry. But preferably neither of us.

~Erich Segal

Jenny, if you're so convinced I'm a loser, why did you bulldoze me into buyÂ-ing you cofÂ-fee?' She looked me straight in the eye and smiled. 'I like your body,' she said.

~Erich Segal

I went into Harvard one way and came out a different person... It's the air at Harvard; it's like a Renaissance court.

~Erich Segal

There was a brief silence. I think I heard snow falling.

~Erich Segal

The pain of not knowing what to do was exceeded only by that of knowing what I had done.

~Erich Segal

The 'equilibrium' that people see in me is really an illusion. I am as flawed as anyone. It's only that I seem to have the knack of hiding.

~Erich Segal

He had then warned his daughter not to violate the Eleventh Commandment. "Which one is that?" I asked her. "Do not bullshit thy father," she said.

~Erich Segal

Sometimes I amaze even myself.

~Erich Segal

I think the Peace Corps is a fine thing, don't you?" he said. "Well," I replied, "it's certainly better than War Corps.
