Computers get better faster than anything else ever. A child's PlayStation today is more powerful than a military supercomputer from 1996.

~Erik Brynjolfsson

We're rapidly entering a world where everything can be monitored and measured. But the big problem is going to be the ability of humans to use, analyze and make sense of the data.

~Erik Brynjolfsson

What can we do to create shared prosperity? The answer is not to try to slow down technology. Instead of racing against the machine, we need to learn to race with the machine.

~Erik Brynjolfsson

Technology is not destiny. We shape our destiny.

~Erik Brynjolfsson

Technology is always creating jobs. It's always destroying jobs.

~Erik Brynjolfsson

The kind of job where you come in and work 9 to 5, and where someone tells you what to do all day is becoming scarcer and scarcer.

~Erik Brynjolfsson

Computers get better faster than anything else ever.

~Erik Brynjolfsson

The heart of science is measurement.

~Erik Brynjolfsson

Retailing has gone from an information-scarce to an information-rich environment.

~Erik Brynjolfsson

G.D.P. is not a measure of how much value is produced for consumers. Everybody should recognize that G.D.P. is not a welfare metric.
